• Eisenhower Offers Space Agency Plan

Congress Urged To Act Speedily In Creating NASA

WASHINGTON (AP)—A plan for a new agency to command America's multibillion - dollar civilian program of exploring outer space was sent to Congress Wednesday by President Eisenhower.

He named it the National Aeronautics and Space Agency and said its task should have high priority.

Eisenhower, in an 1,00-word outline message to the legislators, recommended creation of NASA as a civilian-directed organization, into which would be merged the long - existing National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Would Name Director

He said a presidentially appointed director should head the new independent agency, with the President and the NASA director assisted by a board composed of government and nongovernment scientists and including at least one Defense Department member.

What the nation needs, said the President, is "an imaginative and well-conceived space program." And he asked fast action—"I urge that the Congress give prompt consideration to the draft legislation and that it be enacted at the earliest possible date."

He said he would submit shortly an amendment to the budget for the next fiscal year to provide funds for the new agency, noting that draft legislation has been prepared by the Budget Bureau.

The President's message on NASA contained no estimates of costs.

More Funds For Research

But another message which went from the White House to Congress Wednesday — a $1,455,747,000 supplemental appropriation proposal for the Defense Department — suggested the future dimensions of the space program.

Listed in this proposal was a 10-million-dollar increase for the Advanced Research Projects Agency of the Defense Department. This is the military organization handling all space programs until NASA can take over the civilian aspects of space exploration. The increase raises to 520 million dollars the money for the Pentagon agency in the next fiscal year. That will cover only such preliminary, first - step experiments as the "lunar probe" flights of unmanned rockets and some additional earth satellite launchings.

Senate Unit OKs Tiffany For CRC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Civil Rights Commission inched closer to full operation Wednesday when a Senate Judiciary subcommittee approved Gordon M. Tiffany for the key job of commission staff director.

President Eisenhower's nomination of the New Hampshire Republican still faces a tortuous course, however, before it can be considered by the Senate. It first must clear the full Judiciary Committee, dominated by foes of civil rights legislation.

Tiffany told newsmen the commission won't get into full operation until the Senate acts on his appointment to the $22,500-a-year job.

The commission's assignment is to investigate sworn charges of denial of voting rights because of race, creed or color and to study the whole field of federal jurisdiction in civil rights matters. It was created by the 1957 civil rights law and must complete its work by September 1959.

The subcommittee approved Tiffany's nomination 5-2 after a public hearing. Chairman Hennings (D-Mo) said he would seek prompt action by the full Judiciary Committee, headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss).

President Calls Russian A-Test Ban "Gimmick"

Failure To Beat Soviet To Punch Possible Error

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower hung a "gimmick" label Wednesday on Russia's announced halting of nuclear tests. But he conceded his rejection of an advance U.S. counterpropaganda move might have been a mistake.

Along with more serious matters, Eisenhower also had spring on his mind at his news conference. It was in his voice, step, and in the air. And he commended to newsmen a couple of Bible verses hailing the advent of spring.

Relaxed and in gay, good humor, the President also apologized at one point for delivering a sermon.

With questioning running to weightier matters, Eisenhower told reporters the Russian announcement of a nuclear tests ban "I think is just a side issue, I think it is a gimmick, and I don't think it is to be taken seriously."

Still Hopes For Agreement

He went on quickly to say that, "This doesn't mean that we. . . should fail to seek some common ground where there is a beginning made toward agreement in which we can work better cooperatively." Nor, he said, has he abandoned hope that the Russians will be sufficiently conciliatory to permit "a constructive summit meeting."

Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday Russia rang up something of a propaganda victory with the announced stopping of nuclear tests. As a follow-up, Eisenhower was asked if some of the sting might not have been removed from the Soviet announcement if the administration had announced ahead of time it had considered suspending tests itself but rejected the idea as phony.

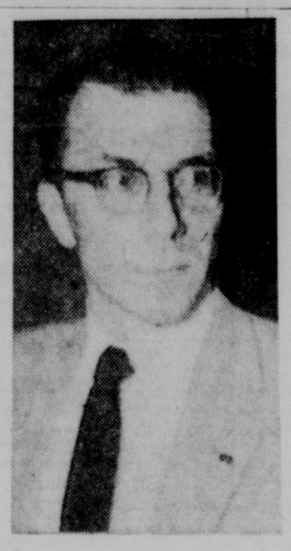
"It might have been a better propaganda move," Eisenhower replied. "But we looked the whole thing at (sic) as a propaganda move and because of that reason I thought that it would be better to say nothing at the moment I could have been mistaken. I don't say that it wasn't."

Pentagon Reorganization

Answering another inquiry, Eisenhower said he is sending to Congress Thursday a Pentagon reorganization plan to strengthen the defense secretary's control over strategic planning. He said it also would give the secretary greater financial flexibility in meeting "the changes that occur day by day in the world situation."

The questioning swung around inevitably to the business slump, with Eisenhower discussing tax and price cuts noncommittally, along with congressional speed on antirecession measures.

Taking a familiar stance, he said that, "You just are not going to get the economy. . . inspired and stimulated just by spending federal money." Without a sensible approach to the recession problem, he said, "we are just building trouble for ourselves in the future that will make this one look very easy."



BACK TO WORK — Mayor Vincent A. Corsall of Oswego, N.Y., returned to work as a science teacher at Oswego High School yesterday after a three-month battle. He was dismissed when he assumed office of mayor last Jan. 1. The Board of Education said the jobs of teaching and being mayor were not compatable. But the board changed its mind Tuesday night when the voters approved a referendum replacing the board's appointive system with an elective system. Corsall said he would turn his mayors salary over to a youth fund. (AP Photofax)

Reds Support Rebels' Strike To Oust Batista

HAVANA (AP) — The outlawed Communist party Wednesday called for a broad democratic coalition government and pledged support for a rebel general strike to overthrow President Fulgencio Batista.

A manifesto said the Communists were joining all Cubans to end tyranny and blamed Yankee imperialism for unemployment in the island.

The Communist party is believed to have 8,000 members and about 12,000 sympathizers in Cuba. There was no immediate indication of rebel leader Fidel Castro's reaction to the Communist manifesto. Batista has accused Castro of being a Communist, but Castro's friends have always denied he had Communist leanings.

Castro has demanded a crippling of communications and transportation to pave the way for the general strike he hopes will topple Batista. Rumors are growing that he plans to call the strike Thursday night, after business establishments have closed for the Good Friday - Easter holiday.

Some workers in Oriente province, Castro's stronghold, already have left their jobs. Sugar mill employes joined transport workers who had walked out earlier.

Highways in Oriente province, on the eastern end of Cuba, were almost deserted. Rebels spread oil and nails on the roads and fired on moving transport.

Eight power line towers were burned and a Sinclair Oil Co. gasoline tank trailer was burned in Oriente.

The provincial capital of Santiago, which has 120,000 residents, was virtually cut off from the rest of the island and its streets were deserted.

150,000 Pay Final Tribute To Handy, Father Of Blues

NEW YORK (AP)—Harlem bade farewell Wednesday to W. C. Handy, who fathered the blues that are its eternal torch song. Police estimated that 150,000 persons watched his funeral cortege pass.

A 40-piece band preceded the funeral motorcade through Harlem streets, crowded but silent of all save the music. At Seventh Ave. and 152nd St. the ceremony ended with the band playing Handy's own immortal composition: "St. Louis Blues."

"His personal blues are now finished," said the Rev. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., congressman and minister, in church services for the 84-year-old blind composer.

Handy was a Negro who drew on the sadness and yearning expressed in the folk songs of his race to fashion the syncopated blues tempo that is peculiarly American.

But it was an integrated funeral for the beloved composer who died of pneumonia last Friday. White show business celebrities mingled with Negro entertainers at the last rites.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner told 2,500 mourners inside Powell's Abyssinian Baptist church on W. 138th St.: "He left an example not only to us but to generations to come."

President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon sent messages of condolence. So did New York's Gov. Averell Harriman.

Mayor Edmund Orgill of Memphis, Tenn., offered that city's W. C. Handy Park as a site for the composer's grave. But Handy will never return to the Tennessee city where he wrote his first blues music. He was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery in the Bronx.

Stabbings Mark New Violence In Detroit Schools

DETROIT (AP) — Two students were stabbed and a male teacher was attacked with rocks Wednesday in the second day of reported violence in Detroit public schools where teachers have asked police protection.

A woman teacher was beaten in a high school hallway Tuesday.

Andrew Jones, 15, was stabbed twice in the back and Robert King, 17, was slashed on the side of the head in a fight with another youth in the basement of McMichael Junior High School near downtown Detroit. All are Negroes and students at the school.

Richard Christian, 31, a teacher at the East Side Washington Trade School, was attacked by four Negro youths as he was umpiring a baseball game on the school's playground. Christian is white.

The teen-agers pelted Christian with rocks when he sought to question them after they walked through the baseball diamond during the game. The teacher said one of his assailants tore off the sleeve of his shirt in a scuffle.

Mrs. Ethel Tincher, 45, a teacher at Denby High School, was beaten Tuesday by two youths she found loitering in the halls during class hours. Mrs. Tincher is white as were her assailants.

Police also reported 14-year-old Shelby Hereford, was stabbed in the side by a 14-year-old fellow student on the playground of Jacoby School Tuesday. The youths, both Negroes, told police they had been "playing" with knives. Hereford identified his companion as Robert Garton.

AMC Proposes Wage Freeze

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. proposed Wednesday a two-year freeze on wages and fringe benefits for its automotive workers.

The company notified the United Auto Workers it will seek new contracts to eliminate further cost-of-living allowances and the built-in annual increase of six cents an hour based on productivity. AMC plans to open bargaining talks with the UAW April 15. The present three-year contract covering 10,000 UAW members ends June 15. AMC has a current total payroll of 16,000.

In other developments on the Detroit labor front, the AFL-CIO International Electrical Workers joined the UAW's campaign to win profit sharing in mass production industries.

The IUE formally presented its profit-sharing demand to General Motors Corp. in opening talks on a new contract to cover some 25,000 IUE members in GM's electrical divisions.

Ike, Mamie To Spend Easter At Pa. Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan to spend the Easter weekend at their farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

The First Lady motored to the farm Wednesday The President will leave either Thursday afternoon or sometime Friday.

Eisenhower plans to return to Washington Sunday evening or Monday morning.

Ike Seeks 1½ Billion Extra For Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed Wednesday to put an additional billion and a half dollars into "high priority defense programs" during the next fiscal year.

The extra money, boosting the defense budget over the 40-billion mark for the 12 months starting July 1, would mean more intercontinental bombers, missile-firing atomic submarines and an expanded space research program.

Eisenhower asked the House Appropriations Committee for speedy approval of the extra funds. Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee, said his group will give the request immediate consideration.

At the Pentagon, meanwhile, it was disclosed the Defense Department is planning to ask Congress for an additional 135½ million dollars for military construction at home and abroad. Officials said details of this supplemental request were no rteady yet.

The President's proposals included 218 million more for the Army, mainly to speed up missile programs; 180 million for outer space research; 206¾ million for two additional submarines capable of firing the Navy's Polaris, a 1,500-mile missile; and 518½ million to build more B52 bombers and refueling tanker planes. Additional money would also be appropriated for the Navy's anti-submarine program.

Mahon said the proposed acceleration of the missile programs was urgently required.

"Likewise, the additional B52s at this session of Congress," he said. "I am highly pleased with the request for additional Polaris submarines and the proposed addition to the submarine warfare program."

Two senators, however, said they didn't think Eisenhower was asking for enough.

"The administration is again shortchanging vital defense programs," Sen. Jackson (D-Wash), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in a statement.

Sen. Cotton (R-NH) also urged more missile-firing subs.

Parliament OKs Lady Lords Idea

LONDON (AP)—The ladies were okayed Wednesday night for membership in the House of Lords. A waggish MP suggested nominating French movie siren Brigitte Bardot.

The idea came from Leslie Hale, a Laborite member of the less dignified but more powerful House of Commons.

He recalled a flight of fancy of author Thomas Carlisle who visualized the noble lords of Parliament suddenly divested of clothes.

"Imagination boggles at what would happen if we have a mixed house of peers," Hale told the laughing commoners.

All this got a laugh. But it didn't help the Laborites in their aim to throw the whole idea out.

By a 292-241 vote the Conservative government piloted what is known as the life peerage bill through its third reading in Commons. Since the measure already has been approved by the House of Lords it now needs only formal royal assent to become law. Queen Elizabeth II is for it.

Khrushchev Flies To Hungary Capital

BUDAPEST (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev swept in Wednesday aboard a sleek Soviet jet, fired a quick salvo at imperialists and immediately began conferences with Hungarian officials.

Wearing a well-cut dark overcoat and a black homburg, the Communist leader told about 4,000 persons who gathered at the heavily guarded airport: "Against the attempts of the imperialists, the unity and cooperation of Hungary and the Soviet Union stands firmly. As long as we are united, there is nothing that we must fear, so we should develop our unity and cooperation."

He said efforts by enemies to destroy Soviet-Hungarian friendship have failed during the past year.

Khrushchev, on his first trip abroad since becoming Soviet Premier Thursday, did not mention the Hungarian revolt crushed by Soviet troops in the fall of 1956.

U.N. Group Sees No U.S. Upturn Before Autumn

GENEVA (AP)—The American business recession is likely to cast its shadow on Western Europe through most of 1958, the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe said Wednesday.

The commission's annual survey said an economic revival in the United States seems unlikely before the autumn at the earliest. It suggested that European governments could cushion the impact by an immediate relaxation of restrictive measures such as credit controls.

The 400-page report warned that the anti-inflationary restrictive policies of most West European governments not only failed in their purpose, but contributed in no small way to the present decline in the rate of European economic expansion.

The rate of growth of Western Europe's economy last year fell below the 1955 level for the second year in succession. The survey predicted that during the current year the three major West European industrial countries—Britain, France and Western Germany—are all likely to accentuate the tendency toward the stagnation that was visible in the second half of 1957.

Although the other West European countries may for a time succeed in pursuing a course different from these three, the report said, they are bound finally to fall into line.

The American recession is expected to affect Europe both directly and indirectly, the commission declared. American purchases from Europe are likely to decline, and a similar decline in U. S. purchases from overseas countries will reduce their purchasing power in Europe.

The survey painted a gloomy picture of immediate economic prospects in the United States, where, it said, the decline of personal incomes will be increasingly felt on consumer expenditure.

Indo Rebels Say Plot Smashed

BUKITTINGGI, Central Sumatra (AP) — The rebel government claimed Wednesday it smashed a counter-revolutionary movement in its own mountain capital and arrested three members of the Indonesian Parliament.

Interior Minister Dhalan Djambek said the movement was among top military and police officials, politicians and Communists. He said the arrested Parliament members—one Socialist and two Nationalists—were trying to persuade rebel soldiers to lay down their arms.

Four plotting Nationalist party leaders, including a member of Parliament from Jakarta, and several military officers have fled from Central Sumatra, Djambek said. A police chief was reported missing with three million rupiahs—$264,000—and the mayor of Bukittinggi and four district chiefs were fired for taking part in the attempted coup, he added.

"We do not expect everyone here to agree with the revolutionary government," Djambek said, "but we did not expect them to actively undermine it."

Police Fire On Mob

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Police fired into a shouting mob of demontrators Wednesday in the ancient city of Tyre, a southern seaport heavily populated by Moslems who enthusiastically support President Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Three U.S. Gun Dealers Accused In Cuban Plot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Americans dealing in firearms were indicted Wednesday on charges of conspiring to get arms in this country for Cuban rebels fighting President Fulgencio Batista's government.

A Washington grand jury, given evidence of sales and shipments and of hotel conferences here, returned indictments against:

Stanley J .Bachman, Jerome H. Bachman, Bernard Sidney Bachman and their corporation, the Stanbern Aeronautics Corp. of Rochester, N.Y.

The corporation deals in firearms, automatic weapons and war surplus material, the Justice Department said.

The principal charge was brought under a federal firearms law as it relates to illegal shipfirm were also indicted on charges of attempted evasion of federal taxes on transfers of firearms and executing false documents.

The papers named as conspirators, but not defendants, Luis Silva, Al Fernendez and James L. Gentry.

Silva was identified as one of those indicted with former President Carlos Prio Socarras of Cuba in New York on Feb. 13 on charges of conspiracy to furnish arms and ammunition to the Cuban rebels being led by Fidel Castro against Batista's government.

The grand jury said the alleged conspiracy was conceived to set up Gentry as a registered weapons dealer and use the device of fictitious sales to him as a means of getting firearms into the hands of others.

At Least One Man Killed In Wichita Falls

Disaster Declared As New Floods Hit More Calif. Towns

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Three tornadoes ripped through this north Texas city and its suburbs Wednesday, killing at least one man. Hospitals listed 11 injured.

The tornadoes demolished or damaged 115 homes, garages, and business houses.

The twisters punched down through low clouds just as the downtown rush hour was under way.

Hundreds refused to take shelter as tornado sirens wailed.

They stood in the streets in a torrential downpour, and ignored the rain and heavy hail to watch the funnels.

Wiley Taylor, 55, a dairy farmer, died in his living room. His home in Deandale, eight miles east of Wichita Falls, collapsed around him.

Nothing was left of Taylor's home but the walls. His electric clock stopped at 6:19 p.m.

The first tornado was seen southwest of Wichita Falls at 5:40 p.m. It had touched ground. This tornado and a second hit almost simultaneously at 6 p.m.

The first hit in the Beverley addition in the west part of the city. The second hit on the fringe of the downtown area, missing the Wichita Falls Record-News and Times building by only a block.

Don Warren, Record-News reporter, telephoning a bulletin to The Associated Press, broke off his story long enough to dive under a table as the tornado swept toward the newspaper office.

Calif. Floods Spread; Disaster Is Declared

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New floods burst on half a dozen more northern California towns Wednesday night as strong winds pushed torrential rains southward toward drenched Los Angeles.

The whole state was declared a disaster area by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. Homeward-bound motorists were stalled, delayed and diverted by police as El Camino Real, one of the main arteries leading south from San Francisco, became flooded.

Business houses in Redwood City, San Mateo, Palo Alto, Atherton, Santa Cruz, Alviso, Martinez, Concord and Walnut Creek—largely located in the bay around San Francisco—suffered damage from high water.

A snowslide in the Donner Pass hit a Southern Pacific train before dawn injuring two crewmen. The 25 passengers were evacuated to Colfax and safety. The blizzard raging in the High Sierra region pinned down 150 motorists in a lodge. There were some children in the group. All were safe.

Two westbound Southern Pacific trains were halted in Nevada until tracks at Donner summit could be cleared. An eastbound passenger streamliner was canceled.

Highways in many parts of the state were flooded and some were closed by snow in the mountains.

A near cloudburst struck San Francisco around noon. A total of 2.01 inches of rain fell here in 24 hours, this on top of many more inches that have fallen in the past few days.

State officials warned of a dangerous flood condition on the Stanislaus River, 18 miles south of Stockton. Nearly two dozen homes were evacuated in western Madera and Stanislaus counties.

High Seas Crack Hull Of Flattop

NEW YORK (AP) — High seas cracked the hull of the aircraft carrier Corregidor in the Atlantic Tuesday night. But she still was afloat Wednesday and in no apparent danger as she limped toward the Azores.

The Corregidor, 15-year-old veteran of Pacific service in World War II, was en route from Barcelona, Spain, to Pensacola, Fla., with 20 officers and 150 enlisted men aboard.

A crack a quarter of an inch wide appeared in the ship's forward engine room when she was about 420 miles northeast of the Azores, fighting 16-foot waves.

The Navy's Military Sea Transportation Service here said: "Some water entered the ship, but the ship is in no immediate danger of sinking and both the ship's engines are still in operation."

Other vessels were on the scene and escorting the Corregidor as she made toward the Azores at about nine knots. She was expected to reach the islands in about two days.

Today's Weather
Partly cloudy and mild.

Stabbings Mark New Violence In Detroit Schools

DETROIT (AP) — Two students were stabbed and a male teacher was attacked with rocks Wednesday in the second day of reported violence in Detroit public schools where teachers have asked police protection.

A woman teacher was beaten in a high school hallway Tuesday.

Andrew Jones, 15, was stabbed twice in the back and Robert King, 17, was slashed on the side of the head in a fight with another youth in the basement of McMichael Junior High School near downtown Detroit. All are Negroes and students at the school.

Richard Christian, 31, a teacher at the East Side Washington Trade School, was attacked by four Negro youths as he was umpiring a baseball game on the school's playground. Christian is white.

The teen-agers pelted Christian with rocks when he sought to question them after they walked through the baseball diamond during the game. The teacher said one of his assailants tore off the sleeve of his shirt in a scuffle.

Mrs. Ethel Tincher, 45, a teacher at Denby High School, was beaten Tuesday by two youths she found loitering in the halls during class hours. Mrs. Tincher is white as were her assailants.

Police also reported 14-year-old Shelby Hereford, was stabbed in the side by a 14-year-old fellow student on the playground of Jacoby School Tuesday. The youths, both Negroes, told police they had been "playing" with knives. Hereford identified his companion as Robert Garton.

AMC Proposes Wage Freeze

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. proposed Wednesday a two-year freeze on wages and fringe benefits for its automotive workers.

The company notified the United Auto Workers it will seek new contracts to eliminate further cost-of-living allowances and the built-in annual increase of six cents an hour based on productivity. AMC plans to open bargaining talks with the UAW April 15. The present three-year contract covering 10,000 UAW members ends June 15. AMC has a current total payroll of 16,000.

In other developments on the Detroit labor front, the AFL-CIO International Electrical Workers joined the UAW's campaign to win profit sharing in mass production industries.

The IUE formally presented its profit-sharing demand to General Motors Corp. in opening talks on a new contract to cover some 25,000 IUE members in GM's electrical divisions.

Ike, Mamie To Spend Easter At Pa. Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower plan to spend the Easter weekend at their farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

The First Lady motored to the farm Wednesday The President will leave either Thursday afternoon or sometime Friday.

Eisenhower plans to return to Washington Sunday evening or Monday morning.

Ike Seeks 1½ Billion Extra For Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed Wednesday to put an additional billion and a half dollars into "high priority defense programs" during the next fiscal year.

The extra money, boosting the defense budget over the 40-billion mark for the 12 months starting July 1, would mean more intercontinental bombers, missile-firing atomic submarines and an expanded space research program.

Eisenhower asked the House Appropriations Committee for speedy approval of the extra funds. Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), chairman of the Defense Appropriations subcommittee, said his group will give the request immediate consideration.

At the Pentagon, meanwhile, it was disclosed the Defense Department is planning to ask Congress for an additional 135½ million dollars for military construction at home and abroad. Officials said details of this supplemental request were no rteady yet.

The President's proposals included 218 million more for the Army, mainly to speed up missile programs; 180 million for outer space research; 206¾ million for two additional submarines capable of firing the Navy's Polaris, a 1,500-mile missile; and 518½ million to build more B52 bombers and refueling tanker planes. Additional money would also be appropriated for the Navy's anti-submarine program.

Mahon said the proposed acceleration of the missile programs was urgently required.

"Likewise, the additional B52s at this session of Congress," he said, "I am highly pleased with the request for additional Polaris submarines and the proposed addition to the submarine warfare program."

Two senators, however, said they didn't think Eisenhower was asking for enough.

"The administration is again shortchanging vital defense programs," Sen. Jackson (D-Wash), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in a statement.

Sen. Cotton (R-NH) also urged more missile-firing subs.

Parliament OKs Lady Lords Idea

LONDON (AP)—The ladies were okayed Wednesday night for membership in the House of Lords. A waggish MP suggested nominating French movie siren Brigitte Bardot.

The idea came from Leslie Hale, a Laborite member of the less dignified but more powerful House of Commons.

He recalled a flight of fancy of author Thomas Carlisle who visualized the noble lords of Parliament suddenly divested of clothes.

"Imagination boggles at what would happen if we have a mixed house of peers," Hale told the laughing commoners.

All this got a laugh. But it didn't help the Laborites in their aim to throw the whole idea out.

By a 292-241 vote the Conservative government piloted what is known as the life peerage bill through its third reading in Commons. Since the measure already has been approved by the House of Lords it now needs only formal royal assent to become law. Queen Elizabeth II is for it.

Khrushchev Flies To Hungary Capital

BUDAPEST (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev swept in Wednesday aboard a sleek Soviet jet, fired a quick salvo at imperialists and immediately began conferences with Hungarian officials.

Wearing a well-cut dark overcoat and a black homburg, the Communist leader told about 4,000 persons who gathered at the heavily guarded airport: "Against the attempts of the imperialists, the unity and cooperation of Hungary and the Soviet Union stands firmly. As long as we are united, there is nothing that we must fear, so we should develop our unity and cooperation."

He said efforts by enemies to destroy Soviet-Hungarian friendship have failed during the past year.

Khrushchev, on his first trip abroad since becoming Soviet Premier Thursday, did not mention the Hungarian revolt crushed by Soviet troops in the fall of 1956.

U.N. Group Sees No U.S. Upturn Before Autumn

GENEVA (AP)—The American business recession is likely to cast its shadow on Western Europe through most of 1958, the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe said Wednesday.

The commission's annual survey said an economic revival in the United States seems unlikely before the autumn at the earliest. It suggested that European governments could cushion the impact by an immediate relaxation of restrictive measures such as credit controls.

The 400-page report warned that the anti-inflationary restrictive policies of most West European governments not only failed in their purpose, but contributed in no small way to the present decline in the rate of European economic expansion.

The rate of growth of Western Europe's economy last year fell below the 1955 level for the second year in succession. The survey predicted that during the current year the three major West European industrial countries—Britain, France and Western Germany—are all likely to accentuate the tendency toward the stagnation that was visible in the second half of 1957.

Although the other West European countries may for a time succeed in pursuing a course different from these three, the report said, they are bound finally to fall into line.

The American recession is expected to affect Europe both directly and indirectly, the commission declared. American purchases from Europe are likely to decline, and a similar decline in U. S. purchases from overseas countries will reduce their purchasing power in Europe.

The survey painted a gloomy picture of immediate economic prospects in the United States, where, it said, the decline of personal incomes will be increasingly felt on consumer expenditure.

Indo Rebels Say Plot Smashed

BUKITTINGGI, Central Sumatra (AP) — The rebel government claimed Wednesday it smashed a counter-revolutionary movement in its own mountain capital and arrested three members of the Indonesian Parliament.

Interior Minister Dhalan Djambek said the movement was among top military and police officials, politicians and Communists. He said the arrested Parliament members—one Socialist and two Nationalists—were trying to persuade rebel soldiers to lay down their arms.

Four plotting Nationalist party leaders, including a member of Parliament from Jakarta, and several military officers have fled from Central Sumatra, Djambek said. A police chief was reported missing with three million rupiahs—$264,000—and the mayor of Bukittinggi and four district chiefs were fired for taking part in the attempted coup, he added.

"We do not expect everyone here to agree with the revolutionary government," Djambek said, "but we did not expect them to actively undermine it."

Police Fire On Mob

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Police fired into a shouting mob of demontrators Wednesday in the ancient city of Tyre, a southern seaport heavily populated by Moslems who enthusiastically support President Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Three U.S. Gun Dealers Accused In Cuban Plot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Americans dealing in firearms were indicted Wednesday on charges of conspiring to get arms in this country for Cuban rebels fighting President Fulgencio Batista's government.

A Washington grand jury, given evidence of sales and shipments and of hotel conferences here, returned indictments against:

Stanley J .Bachman, Jerome H. Bachman, Bernard Sidney Bachman and their corporation, the Stanbern Aeronautics Corp. of Rochester, N.Y.

The corporation deals in firearms, automatic weapons and war surplus material, the Justice Department said.

The principal charge was brought under a federal firearms law as it relates to illegal shipfirm were also indicted on charges of attempted evasion of federal taxes on transfers of firearms and executing false documents.

The papers named as conspirators, but not defendants, Luis Silva, Al Fernendez and James L. Gentry.

Silva was identified as one of those indicted with former President Carlos Prio Socarras of Cuba in New York on Feb. 13 on charges of conspiracy to furnish arms and ammunition to the Cuban rebels being led by Fidel Castro against Batista's government.

The grand jury said the alleged conspiracy was conceived to set up Gentry as a registered weapons dealer and use the device of fictitious sales to him as a means of getting firearms into the hands of others.

At Least One Man Killed In Wichita Falls

Disaster Declared As New Floods Hit More Calif. Towns

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Three tornadoes ripped through this north Texas city and its suburbs Wednesday, killing at least one man. Hospitals listed 11 injured.

The tornadoes demolished or damaged 115 homes, garages, and business houses.

The twisters punched down through low clouds just as the downtown rush hour was under way.

Hundreds refused to take shelter as tornado sirens wailed.

They stood in the streets in a torrential downpour, and ignored the rain and heavy hail to watch the funnels.

Wiley Taylor, 55, a dairy farmer, died in his living room. His home in Deandale, eight miles east of Wichita Falls, collapsed around him.

Nothing was left of Taylor's home but the walls. His electric clock stopped at 6:19 p.m.

The first tornado was seen southwest of Wichita Falls at 5:40 p.m. It had touched ground. This tornado and a second hit almost simultaneously at 6 p.m.

The first hit in the Beverley addition in the west part of the city. The second hit on the fringe of the downtown area, missing the Wichita Falls Record-News and Times building by only a block.

Don Warren, Record-News reporter, telephoning a bulletin to The Associated Press, broke off his story long enough to dive under a table as the tornado swept toward the newspaper office.

Calif. Floods Spread; Disaster Is Declared

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New floods burst on half a dozen more northern California towns Wednesday night as strong winds pushed torrential rains southward toward drenched Los Angeles.

The whole state was declared a disaster area by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. Homeward-bound motorists were stalled, delayed and diverted by police as El Camino Real, one of the main arteries leading south from San Francisco, became flooded.

Business houses in Redwood City, San Mateo, Palo Alto, Atherton, Santa Cruz, Alviso, Martinez, Concord and Walnut Creek—largely located in the bay around San Francisco—suffered damage from high water.

A snowslide in the Donner Pass hit a Southern Pacific train before dawn injuring two crewmen. The 25 passengers were evacuated to Colfax and safety. The blizzard raging in the High Sierra region pinned down 150 motorists in a lodge. There were some children in the group. All were safe.

Two westbound Southern Pacific trains were halted in Nevada until tracks at Donner summit could be cleared. An eastbound passenger streamliner was canceled.

Highways in many parts of the state were flooded and some were closed by snow in the mountains.

A near cloudburst struck San Francisco around noon. A total of 2.01 inches of rain fell here in 24 hours, this on top of many more inches that have fallen in the past few days.

State officials warned of a dangerous flood condition on the Stanislaus River, 18 miles south of Stockton. Nearly two dozen homes were evacuated in western Madera and Stanislaus counties.

High Seas Crack Hull Of Flattop

NEW YORK (AP) — High seas cracked the hull of the aircraft carrier Corregidor in the Atlantic Tuesday night. But she still was afloat Wednesday and in no apparent danger as she limped toward the Azores.

The Corregidor, 15-year-old veteran of Pacific service in World War II, was en route from Barcelona, Spain, to Pensacola, Fla., with 20 officers and 150 enlisted men aboard.

A crack a quarter of an inch wide appeared in the ship's forward engine room when she was about 420 miles northeast of the Azores, fighting 16-foot waves.

The Navy's Military Sea Transportation Service here said: "Some water entered the ship, but the ship is in no immediate danger of sinking and both the ship's engines are still in operation."

Other vessels were on the scene and escorting the Corregidor as she made toward the Azores at about nine knots. She was expected to reach the islands in about two days.

19-Year-Old Sailor Held For Passing Bad Checks

BALTIMORE (AP) — Darrell Lee Jorgenson, 19-year-old sailor from Arlee, Mont., was charged Wednesday with using the identification cards of other sailors to cash bad checks.

James J. Kelly, chief of the FBI office here, said Jorgenson was being held at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Bainbridge, Md., and would be picked up by the U. S. marshal's office and brought here for arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart.

Jorgenson was arrested last Monday when a branch bank manager at Bainbridge recognized one of the names on a check being cashed.

The manager, Harry C. Lawder III, said Jorgenson "came in and presented this check. I recognized one of the names he'd been using. I asekd him if he'd mind stepping around to the side, that I'd like to talk to him.

"He took off. I chased him. With the help of four sailors coming across the street, we ran him down."

Kelly said Jorgenson had passed about 15 bogus checks in Pennsylvania and Virginia, as well as Maryland. He was formally charged with transportation of stolen property across state lines. Kelly said, on grounds he had forged a $40 check drawn on the Bank of Virginia at Norfolk.

Jorgenson was enrolled in a Navy radio school and was due to graduate in May.

Maryland — Hester S. Duff, Earleville, and Reba C. Warner, Lisbon.

Plan To Meet Red Challenge Offered By Long

BALTIMORE (AP) — Clarence D. Long said Wednesday his proposal for a world conference of elder statesmen would meet "the Russian propaganda challenge of halting nuclear bomb tests."

Long, candidate for Maryland Democratic senatorial nomination, said such a conference to explore the problem of peace and disarmament would be evidence of "our willingness to have these vital questions laid before a group of unbiased thinkers."

"Although we recognize that there are no private statesmen in Russia, we would be willing, nevertheless, to have semi-official representatives attend from that country, so anxious are we to develop a complete and frank discussion," he said in a press statement.

"Because the cold war has generated so much tension within nations and many official representatives cannot speak frankly for fear of embarrassing their governments, respected thinkers free from any ties could discuss and seek solutions for such problems more effectively."

Dr. Reddick's Trial Scheduled April 21

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Robert Reddick's trial on a charge of improperly using a state seal and preparing false medical credentials was set Wednesday for April 21.

He pleaded innocent to the charges. They are among several court cases involving Dr. Reddick and his issuance of medical licenses in the name of the Homeopathic Society of Maryland.

The state obtained a court order restraining him from issuing the licenses and the legislature has since taken all such authority away from the society.

Indicted For Holdup

BALTIMORE (AP)—John E. Purkins, 27, was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday for robbing the Standard Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of $392 on Feb. 19.

He also is accused of jeopardizing the life of Mrs. Marie Golden, a teller, by threatening her with a gun.

WASHDAY BLUES — Don Romero, 25, knows how it feels to have one's head caught inside an automatic washing machine. He was inspecting a machine at a Denver laundry where he works when another worker accidentally pushed the starter button. Romero was taken to a hospital to have head lacerations bandaged. Political Club Chairman Offers Candidates Tips

BALTIMORE (AP)—Want to get elected to public office?

This is no guarantee but, according to a letter sent to candidates by the chairman of a political club here it might help if you:

6. "Get several large photographs of yorself made at once. . . Write a short biography on the enclosed sheet and send it to me by Thursday, if possible. I know it's a rush, but that's politics." (The letter was postmarked Friday.)

But to make certain no false hopes are raised among recipients, who are running in Maryland's May 20 primary, the letter concludes:

"This is by no means to be construed as an endorsement, implied or real. It is a public service from our organization."

Fugitive Poses As U.S. Soldier

BALTIMORE (AP)—A man police said was wanted in Atlanta, Ga. for escape was charged Wednesday with posing as an Army sergeant.

He was taken into custody after he told the same hard luck story to two lawyers who, it turned out, were partners working in different parts of Maryland.

Robert Lee Stokes, who gave a Baltimore address, was arrested and turned over to the FBI.

Paul Pitcher, an attorney with offices in Glen Burnie, Md. gave police this account:

A man came into his office Tuesday and said he was a soldier stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ill. He was wearing a master sergeant's uniform.

The man said his wife, mother and daughter had been killed in an accident enroute to visit him. He tried to borrow $50, leaving the impression he would let the attorney handle the resulting suit for one-third of any settlement.

Pitcher had heard the story before. It had been told earlier to another attorney, Robert Callanan. Pitcher's partner, who works in Baltimore.

Pitcher called police.

The man was charged with impersonating a U. S. soldier.

Ursa Kline, 15, Robert Kanode, 18, and Edward J. Breadon, 17, were held without bail on a charge of assaulting with intent to rape a 15-year-old girl.

Breadon's parents, at whose house the party was held Saturday night, were placed under $2,000 bail for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

James E. Riley, 22, was placed under the same bail on a charge of supplying alcoholic beverages to minors.

Held As Embezzler

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gwyn Ray Gibson Jr., 45, of suburban Essex, was ordered held in $1,500 bail Tuesday on a charge of embezzling $693 from the Germania Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

White House, FCC Have Little Contact, Probe Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former chairman of the Federal Communications Commission testified Wednesday in a congressional inquiry into alleged influence on the agency that the White House has very little to do with FCC activities.

The witness, George C. McConnaughey, also told the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight that Secretary of Commerce Weeks, who is from Massachusetts had nothing to do with the commission's award of the Boston Channel 5 TV license.

McConnaughey, a Columbus, Ohio, lawyer, said two rival applicants talked to him about the case before the FCC decision was made in April 1957. He said some representatives of a Boston newspaper, the Globe, "read the riot act" to him for even considering the application of the firm which finally got the license, a subsidiary of the Boston Herald-Traveler Corp.

The former FCC chairman did not question the propriety of these approaches. But subcommittee Chairman Harris (D-Ark) said the law against such off-the-record contacts "should not be flouted as it has been consistently."

McConnaughey expressed sharp resentment of charges by the subcommittee's long - since ousted counsel, Bernard Schwartz, that he and some other commissioners put themselves unduly under the influence of the broadcasting inquiry. He called the charge a smear and a character assassination.

On the question of White House influence, McConnaughey was asked if there was "a great deal of contact" between White House officials and him in his FCC days, apart from the routine referring to FCC of letters affecting matters under its jurisdiction.

"That has been about it—other than security matters," the former commissioner said.

Mail Order Firms Plan Spring Sales

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Chicago mail order firms are distributing spring sales books which they say contain price cuts averaging 13 per cent. A third mail order firm said it will offer comparable cuts in a book to be mailed next month.

Montgomery Ward & Co. said its 480-page annual spring sale catalogue, putting price reductions on 20,000 items, is the largest it ever has issued. The cuts, under prices listed in its general spring-summer catalogue, are effective immediately. The sale continues until Aug. 15.

Aldens, Inc. mailed a sales book containing 188 pages.

A spokesman for Sears, Roebuck & Co. said that firm will issue a sales book in May containing price cuts of about 13 per cent.

Storm Damage Estimate Upped By Power Firm

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. made another upward revision Wednesday of its snowstorm damage, putting the figure at more than 3½ million dollars.

That was part of the company's report to the Public Service Commission as a result of the State agency asking for a rundown on how the March 19-20 storm affected several utilities in the area.

Another surprising feature of the company's letter was the estimate that 190,000 to 517,000 electric customers were out of service on Thursday morning, March 20.

The Gas and Electric Co. explained to the commission that it was difficult to arrive at damages estimates. This was particularly true, it said, before aerial inspections could be made by helicopter.

The company said it was "by far the greatest damage we have ever experienced, being many times as great as the damage caused by Hurricane Hazel in October, 1954."

Here are some other details the company reported on how the heavy snow paralyzed much of its 2,300 square mile system:

It was nine days after the storm when the utility had finally restored all customers to service, although only 10,000 were without service after five days.

Of the 144 company substations, a maximum of 67 were out of service because of interruption to high voltage transmission lines.

About 1,100 poles were snapped by the burden of snowcaked lines.

The company used 4,215 workmen in storm emergency duties, of whom 1,468 were called in from other states.

Nasty Fall Proves Fortunate For Tot

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A nasty fall may mean a longer, healthier life for 3-year-old Kathy Lubon of Pittsburgh.

The fact she fell on the left shoulder instead of the right proved as fortunate, so far as Kathys' future is concerned.

X-ray pictures disclosed no serious injury to the shoulder. But doctors noted that her stomach was pressing against the left lung.

The condition—diaphramic hernia—had not been apparent before. Kathy never complained. But doctors said that, unchecked, it could have led to serious, even tragic consequences.

Last Wednesday surgeons placed the stomach in its proper position, patched the diaphragm and removed tissue from the lung. Kathy is recovering nicely and is expected to go home shortly.

Ike, Mamie Have 72 'Hired Hands'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ike and Mamie Eisenhower plan to run the White House next year with the same number of gardeners, cooks and other household employes they had this year.

Funds for payment of 34 domestic and 38 mechanical and maintenance workers were included in the annual White House appropriation bill passed Tuesday by the House and sent to the Senate.

The "hired hands" allotment of $415,400 is the exact amount the President requested and is $15,000 more than was appropriated for the present fiscal year, ending June 30. The increase results from transfer of some employes from an annual salary basis to an hourly pay basis.

The White House staff is headed by a maitre d'hotel and includes four butlers, six cooks, a valet, five doormen, eight maids and assorted helpers.

The maintenance staff includes 12 gardeners, 8 engineers, 6 carpenters including a foreman and two assistant foremen, and miscellaneous other employes.

Humorist's Son Held In Attacks On Two Women

NEW YORK (AP)—Humorist S. J. Perelman's son Adam was charged Wednesday with attempted rape and robbery of one woman and assaulting another.

The writer's son, 21, on parole after serving time in a similar case, was first held without bail by a magistrate but later released in $5,000 bail by a General Sessions judge.

His attorney, Harris Steinberg, told Judge George Carney in General Sessions that the youth's father knew of the charges and was squarely behind his son.

Young Perelman is accused of trying to rape Mrs. Lucy Goldthwaite, 40, a magazine editor in the hallway of her Greenwich Village apartment house last Thursday. He also is charged with stealing her purse containing $35.

In the second case Perelman is accused of assaulting Mrs. Cora Weiss, 33, a social worker, as she was opening the door of her apartment in Greenwich Village Monday night.

The elder Perelman's books and writings have made him one of the nation's top humorists. He helped on the script for the movie, "Around the World in 80 Days."

Red Cross, Short Goal, Extends Fund Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Red Cross Wednesday night said it was about 25 million dollars shy of its nationwide goal and would extend its fund raising efforts into April.

The charity organization hoped to reach a goal of 95 million dollars for its annual budget.

Albert C. Borghi, Washington attorney who heads the Maryland Red Cross drive, said only three of the state's 22 chapters have achieved their quotas. He added the state was $746,575 shy of its $1,582,707 goal.

Ike Denies Staff Withholds Vital Info From Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says it is ridiculous to contend that a White House palace guard keeps vital information from him.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference Wednesday about a statement made by Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee on a television program last month. Bridges expressed the opinion that some members of what he called the palace guard—Eisenhower's White House staff—did not keep Eisenhower fully informed on some matters.

The President replied that the term palace guard has no meaning in his judgment. He said it would be ridiculous if every member of his staff had to repeat to him everything the staff member hears.

Eisenhower said he would have time to talk to nobody else because his staff hears everything, and he would personally be worn out within a week of such a routine.

It is true, the President said, that members of his staff do sort out the things they hear and inform him about matters they believe are important.

But Eisenhower said he has contacts with the Security Council and the Cabinet and has given direct orders that executive department officials can communicate with him directly.

Safety Campaigner Dies In Car Crash

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Albert C. Magenheimer helped organize the schoolboy safety patrol as an Indianapolis police officer and he became safety director for the State Highway Department.

The 56-year-old campaigner for careful driving was killed Tuesday night in a traffic accident.

His state-owned auto crashed head-on into a trailer truck on U. S. 40 at Gem, 12 miles east of Indianapolis.

Mrs. Robert Ensign of New Castle, Ind., told investigators she followed Magenheimer's car for five miles and was unable to pass because his auto was weaving back and forth. She said he was driving only 25 to 30 m.p.h.

Unemployment Boost Of 200,000 Forecast

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—An increase in national unemployment figure for March in the range of 200,000 was predicted Wednesday by a Department of Labor official, Seymour L. Wolfbein.

National unemployment in February was 5,173,000.

Wolfbein, who heads the department's manpower and employment division said the Bureau of Labor Statistics would release the official March total next week.

Unions Say Railways "Living In Dream"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The railroad labor unions said Wednesday the rail industry is "living in a dream world" intent on taking the easy way out instead of fighting a competitive war with other forms of transportation.

The blanket indictment of railroad policy wes given by Chairman G. E. Leighty of the Railway Labor Executives' Assn. in testimony for a Senate Interstate Commerce subcommittee studying the financial plight of the rail industry.

"The railways," said Leighty, "should be out fighting to build up their facilities to reclaim every possible passenger and ton-mile, not trying to get out of business completely."

Leighty said railroad managers are living back in the days when they "exercised tremendous power . . . from the gaudy interiors of their private cars."

"They remember hearing," he said, "about the distant time in the past when the railways were a monopoly; when shippers and passengers had no trucks, no barges, no airplanes, and no private automobiles to use; when the public was completely dependent upon the railroads . . .

"Frankly, we don't believe the railways want to compete. They know there are certain areas where they possess such an overpowering advantage that they don't have to fret about losing anything. They can charge any rate the ICC will authorize; they can handle the traffic when they want to, as fast or as slowly as they want to—and if the shipper doesn't like it, he knows what he can do about it.

"The railways really don't want to be bothered about anything else. It's too much trouble to carry pasengers, or LCL (less than carload) freight, or any other kind of freight that they can't handle easily and inexpensively without fear of truck or barge competition."

Food Prices Drop

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices turned sharply lower this week, Dun & Bradstreet reported Wednesday.

The organization's food index stood at $6.60 compared with last week's $6.70, which was the high for the year. This week's reading, the lowest since late February, is seven per cent higher than the $6.17 level of the similar week last year.

Board Doesn't Favor Library Plan For County

The chances for a county library system this year seem remote as a result of a discussion at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

A group representing the Northeast School Parent Teacher Association and Francis Deremer, Corriganville, representing the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, met with the board to urge that the program be adopted.

Deremer was spokesman for the petitioners and he outlined the need for such a library system. He cited the competition on an educational level with Soviet Russia and the vital need for providing people with books and other material so they may become better informed on world affairs.

Commissioner William A. Wilson told the group that the county board is faced with a financial problem in trying to keep the tax rate within reason. He also said the county would not know what action the City of Cumberland would take if the county went into the library program.

Wilson said the taxpayers of Cumberland would feel they were being taxed double for library facilities as they have their own library in operation. Commissioner James Orr, president of the board, said two-cent increases in the tax rate, which would be required, make adoption of the plan out of the question this year. Orr said there are more important programs for the county to handle at this time.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said he is not opposed to a county library program, but feels that an addition to the County Infirmary is more important at this time than a library plan. He said that $100,000 will be available from the federal government until June 30 for an addition to the infirmary and he would like such a program adopted first.

The commissioners said that a meeting with officials of the City of Cumberland would be desirable so that the ideas of the local government could be obtained on the proposal. Cumberland levies taxes each year for the support of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Make It Milk

Authorities explained that empty waxed paper milk cartons, preferably the half gallon size, make excellent warning flares. By lighting the tops, drivers can warn approaching traffic at accident scenes or in case of car trouble.

Gold Rush Off

BURNABY, B. C. (AP) — A plan to celebrate British Columbia's Centennial with a "Gold Rush" has been cancelled. It had been planned to hide simulated gold nuggets to be exchanged for prizes by "prospectors." Legal officials said it would be considered a lottery.

Welfare Board Vacancies Become Effective May 31

The terms of two members of the Allegany County Welfare Board expire May 31 and the county commissioners have been asked to nominate candidates to replace them.

Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Department of Welfare, wrote the commissioners that the six-year terms of William R. Carscaden and Earl C. Robertson, both of Cumberland, expire.

To be eligible for appointment the nominees cannot be holding public office, either by election or appointment or be a candidate for political office.

The commissioners will submit the names of nominees for the two posts to the state agency.

John Kelly, 702 Hill Top Drive, requested the commissioners to widen the Pea Vine Run Road, which runs between Valley Road and the Bedford Road.

Kelly informed the board that he can obtain the necessary rights of ways. He said he is interested in a housing development in that area. The matter was turned over to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor.

F. Allan Weatherholt, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association, wrote the board to request the county to provide a room in the Union Street County Building for office use.

Before World War II, the Soviet Ukraine accounted for nearly a fourth of Russia's entire wheat and corn crops, a third of its barley and two-thirds of its sugar beet output.

19-Year-Old Sailor Held For Passing Bad Checks

BALTIMORE (AP) — Darrell Lee Jorgenson, 19-year-old sailor from Arlee, Mont., was charged Wednesday with using the identification cards of other sailors to cash bad checks.

James J. Kelly, chief of the FBI office here, said Jorgenson was being held at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Bainbridge, Md., and would be picked up by the U. S. marshal's office and brought here for arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Ernest Volkart.

Jorgenson was arrested last Monday when a branch bank manager at Bainbridge recognized one of the names on a check being cashed.

The manager, Harry C. Lawder III, said Jorgenson "came in and presented this check. I recognized one of the names he'd been using. I asekd him if he'd mind stepping around to the side, that I'd like to talk to him.

"He took off. I chased him. With the help of four sailors coming across the street, we ran him down."

Kelly said Jorgenson had passed about 15 bogus checks in Pennsylvania and Virginia, as well as Maryland. He was formally charged with transportation of stolen property across state lines. Kelly said, on grounds he had forged a $40 check drawn on the Bank of Virginia at Norfolk.

Jorgenson was enrolled in a Navy radio school and was due to graduate in May.

Postmasters Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday confirmed the following postmaster nominations by President Eisenhower:

Maryland — Hester S. Duff, Earleville, and Reba C. Warner, Lisbon.

Plan To Meet Red Challenge Offered By Long

BALTIMORE (AP) — Clarence D. Long said Wednesday his proposal for a world conference of elder statesmen would meet "the Russian propaganda challenge of halting nuclear bomb tests."

Long, candidate for Maryland Democratic senatorial nomination, said such a conference to explore the problem of peace and disarmament would be evidence of "our willingness to have these vital questions laid before a group of unbiased thinkers."

"Although we recognize that there are no private statesmen in Russia, we would be willing, nevertheless, to have semi-official representatives attend from that country, so anxious are we to develop a complete and frank discussion," he said in a press statement.

"Because the cold war has generated so much tension within nations and many official representatives cannot speak frankly for fear of embarrassing their governments, respected thinkers free from any ties could discuss and seek solutions for such problems more effectively."

Dr. Reddick's Trial Scheduled April 21

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Robert Reddick's trial on a charge of improperly using a state seal and preparing false medical credentials was set Wednesday for April 21.

He pleaded innocent to the charges. They are among several court cases involving Dr. Reddick and his issuance of medical licenses in the name of the Homeopathic Society of Maryland.

The state obtained a court order restraining him from issuing the licenses and the legislature has since taken all such authority away from the society.

Indicted For Holdup

BALTIMORE (AP)—John E. Purkins, 27, was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday for robbing the Standard Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of $392 on Feb. 19.

He also is accused of jeopardizing the life of Mrs. Marie Golden, a teller, by threatening her with a gun.

WASHDAY BLUES — Don Romero, 25, knows how it feels to have one's head caught inside an automatic washing machine. He was inspecting a machine at a Denver laundry where he works when another worker accidentally pushed the starter button. Romero was taken to a hospital to have head lacerations bandaged. Political Club Chairman Offers Candidates Tips

BALTIMORE (AP)—Want to get elected to public office?

This is no guarantee but, according to a letter sent to candidates by the chairman of a political club here it might help if you:

1. Attend a certain civic luncheon. "Buy several tickets. If you don't plan to use them, send them on to me to use among my workers."

2. Attend a similar event whose chairman is "a good election worker." Send her a donation."

3. "Attend by all means the Provident Hospital Guild Luncheon . . . Buy about five tickets . . . Give them away."

5. "Serve as a sponsor for my testimonial on April 28 and try to dispose of some extra tickets. Your name will go on the stationery if you are a sponsor."

5. Write a note to a certain woman "and tell her you have heard of the wonderful job she has done . . . Ask her, if possible, to serve on her committee. The ensuing publicity could be useful to you."

6. "Get several large photographs of yorself made at once. . . Write a short biography on the enclosed sheet and send it to me by Thursday, if possible. I know it's a rush, but that's politics." (The letter was postmarked Friday.)

But to make certain no false hopes are raised among recipients, who are running in Maryland's May 20 primary, the letter concludes:

"This is by no means to be construed as an endorsement, implied or real. It is a public service from our organization."

Fugitive Poses As U.S. Soldier

BALTIMORE (AP)—A man police said was wanted in Atlanta, Ga. for escape was charged Wednesday with posing as an Army sergeant.

He was taken into custody after he told the same hard luck story to two lawyers who, it turned out, were partners working in different parts of Maryland.

Robert Lee Stokes, who gave a Baltimore address, was arrested and turned over to the FBI.

Paul Pitcher, an attorney with offices in Glen Burnie, Md. gave police this account:

A man came into his office Tuesday and said he was a soldier stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ill. He was wearing a master sergeant's uniform.

The man said his wife, mother and daughter had been killed in an accident enroute to visit him. He tried to borrow $50, leaving the impression he would let the attorney handle the resulting suit for one-third of any settlement.

Pitcher had heard the story before. It had been told earlier to another attorney, Robert Callanan, Pitcher's partner, who works in Baltimore.

Pitcher called police.

The man was charged with impersonating a U. S. soldier.

Six Held In Wake Of Teen-Age Party

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Three youths and three adults were held for Circuit Court action Wednesday on charges arising from a party for teen-agers.

Ursa Kline, 15, Robert Kanode, 18, and Edward J. Breadon, 17, were held without bail on a charge of assaulting with intent to rape a 15-year-old girl.

Breadon's parents, at whose house the party was held Saturday night, were placed under $2,000 bail for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

James E. Riley, 22, was placed under the same bail on a charge of supplying alcoholic beverages to minors.

Held As Embezzler

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gwyn Ray Gibson Jr., 45, of suburban Essex, was ordered held in $1,500 bail Tuesday on a charge of embezzling $693 from the Germania Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

To avoid double-chin and dowager's hump, be sure to carry your head erectly!

Head High

What can be done about a double chin? The muscles are sagging and unless you correct the practice you're going to add a dowager's hump to your double-chin. Both are unnecessary affronts to your beauty.

Remember, the lobe of your ear should always be right straight up from your shoulder bone. Stand before a mirror and use a ruler to check on the position.

If you work at a desk, have your eye sight checked. It may be that you are poring over your work because your eyes need assistance. It is more comfortable and less tiring to sit with your head erect and allow only your eyes to turn down toward your work. When your head goes along with your eyes it is either because you need glasses or because you have allowed yourself to slump into unlovely ways.

Learn to carry your head high, pushing your head back and keeping your ear vertical. As long as your ear is straight up and down, you need not worry that your chin will be carried too high—instead it will always be parallel to the floor in the line of beauty and youth.

While you're retraining your head-holding habit, you may feel strain unless you practice a few relaxing routines. Drop your head forward as far as it will go. Let it hang heavily for a second. Then turn it to the left as far as possible and see how far you can look over your back; again look back over your head as you let your head drop straight back. Next, roll your head over to the right as far as possible. At the outset, try carrying out this daily routine about once per hour.

TOMORROW: Responsible Guests.

Fine Is Appealed By Young Driver

John C. McVicker, 20, of 417 Louisana Avenue, appealed a $150 fine imposed Monday in Trial Magistrates Court on a motor vehicle violation.

A second fine of $10 on another violation was suspended by Magistrate J. Milton Dick after the youth pleaded guilty.

City police said young McVicker had pulled out of a parking space and struck another vehicle on Centre Street.

'Tornado Alley' Residents Stage Successful Drill

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Wichita learned Tuesday what to do before a tornado comes along, not after.

This metropolitan center of 250,000 persons, located in a section of the great plains known as "Tornado Alley," staged a full-scale severe storm drill, its first.

A helicopter played the part of a tornado funnel. It approached the city from the southwest.

Civil Defense sirens wailed. Police cars, their sirens screaming, took up the alarm and alerted pre-assigned residential areas.

Radio and television stations put on mock storm warnings, each stressing that what they were saying was only practice for the real thing.

At North High School, in the "storm's" direct path, 2,000 students and teachers lined up along the walls in corridors for five minutes, making sure they were nowhere near windows.

Amateur and police radios passed along quick word whenever the helicopter shifted directions, as a tornado sometimes will.

V. V Phillips, chief meteorologist at the Weather Bureau here, called it "successful, all the way."

Phillips has sparked a program to get residents of the surrounding 28-county Kansas area set to spot tornadoes quickly — and do what they can to stay alive and unhurt, pointing to the rebuilding of Udall, Kan., as an example. Udall is located 25 miles southeast of Wichita.

After a tornado leveled it the night of May 25, 1955, killing 82 of its 576 residents, Udall rebuilt with tornado safety a prime motive.

It has tornado shelters under its high school and grade schools which can handle more than 200 students and teachers, and a lot of neighbors. Most of the new and rebuilt homes at Udall have storm shelters.

At the south edge of Udall stands a warning tower, manned around the clock during the storm season and equipped to give quick warning.

Shaking Palsy Cured By Beam Of Silent Sound

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP) — Silent sound waves are stopping the terrible dance of shaking palsy in a new kind of brain surgery.

The uncontrolled shaking, rigid muscles and pain are relieved by sound waves focused on precise spots inside the brain. There they kill some nerve cells.

Nothing else in the brain is damaged. There is no bleeding. There is no sensation.

Some patients eat dinner right after the surgery.

This neurosonic surgery was reported Tuesday by William J. Fry, research professor of the Bioacoustics laboratory of the University of Illinois, Urbana. He spoke to science writers making an American Cancer Society tour of research institutions.

Dr. Russell Meyers, neurosurgeon, of the University of Iowa, has sound-operated 12 patients in the cooperative project. Eleven had shaking palsy, also known as Parkinson's disease, and one suffered severe shaking from cerebral palsy.

Results are extremely encouraging Prof. Fry said. But there has not been time to observe long-term effects, since the technique was first used only last October.

Shaking palsy is often corrected by knife surgery or injections of alcohol to remove or kill part of the brain where ailing nerve cells are causing the trouble.

The high intensity ultra-sound waves kill these nerve cells with fantastic ease and precision, Prof. Fry said. Ultra-sound means very high frequency, far above the range of human hearing.

"As you move the beam slightly, tremors will stop in an arm, then in a leg. You can trace the progress. Rigidity of muscles is relieved the same way. The patient is conscious and can talk to you."

The team has aimed the destructive beam at a brain area known as the ansa lenticularis, a bundle of nerve fibers carrying the trouble-making nerve signals.

The beam also has been aimed deeper into the mid-brain, into a region of gray matter known as the substantia nigra. Hitting there, it seemed to relieve the shaking and rigidity more quickly and perhaps more effectively.

The neruosonic surgery might become valuable in treating brain cancers—with a dosage devised to kill cancer cells but not healthy brain tissue.

River Harness Plan

HONG KONG (AP) — Plans have been made to harness the four major tributaries of the Yellow River in the Kansu and Shensi provinces of Red China, Radio Peiping reports. The program is aimed at cutting flood losses and lowering the amount of silt carried into the Yellow each year.

English Lady Mayor Woos U.S. Tourists

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lady mayor of Southport, England, Pop. 85,000, is in town. She was given a plug of chewing tobacco, put in a plug for lady politicians, and generally had herself a ball.

The lady mayor is Mrs. Mae Bamber, and she's over here to bait traps for the British Travel Assn. She wants more tourists for her country, and especially for Southport, which, the travel ads say, has fine golf courses and brisk ocean breezes and a wonderful flower show each August.

As a gimmick, she is visiting American Southports, in Connecticut, Maine and North Carolina. It's not clear why she's passing up Southport, Fla., and Southport, Ind.

First, a word about English mayors.

He puts on fancy robes on great occasions, loops chains around his neck and wears a three-cornered hat. These hats once were black, but Mrs. B changed that.

She has gone in for colors, causing surprise, if not alarm, among the British.

She had on a blue tricorne, and with her lively eyes and her gray-ing hair, it looked fine, most unwardheelish.

Mrs. Bamber—she prefers the British title, Mr. Mayor—dropped in on one of this nation's leading women politicians, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R) of Skowhegan, Maine.

She said they both agreed more women should go into politics. Why?

"Well, women pay great attention to details. A woman is conscientious. If she's good, she may be very good indeed."

And if she's bad?

"If she's bad," Mr. Mayor said firmly, "she wouldn't be interested in this sort of thing anyway."

Mrs. Bamber's visit with Sen. W Kerr Scott (D) of Haw River, N.C. was a prelude to her visit to Southport, N.C

Scott presents each visitor with a plug of chewing tobacco, and naturally he couldn't overlook an opportunity like this.

"That's lovely," the mayor said gamely, putting it in her purse.

Ladies Shun Pipes

VIENNA (AP)—A statistical firm conducted a smoking survey in Vienna and included this among its findings: only four tenths of 1 per cent of the city's women smoke a pipe or cigars.

Castanets are so called because they resemble chestnuts, which are known as "castanea" in Latin.

You Need A Church To Be A Christian

Did you ever stop to think that Christianity is not a "lone wolf" activity?

Too many of us have come to think of our Christian profession as something having to do entirely with morals. We very glibly recite "The Golden Rule" and seem to believe that if "we do unto others as we would have them do unto us," we are being good Christians.

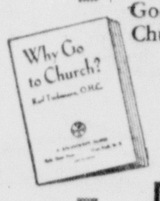
But, being a Christian first involves believing in Christ as our personal Saviour and as the Saviour of the world. It involves much more than being a good person.

Christ taught, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul and with all thy mind . . ."

This command to love God includes worship, prayer, work for God's Kingdom. As our Book of Common Prayer puts it, a Christian's duty is "to follow Christ, to worship God every Sunday in His church, and to work and pray and give for the spread of His Kingdom."

In the Episcopal Church we worship God corporately — with other people. It means being a part of "the Body of Christ" — an active participant in His church.

We invite you to join us in worshipping God and His Son, Our Lord, in the Episcopal Church near you, at your earliest convenience.



Here's good reading. Send for your copy of the booklet "Why Go to Church?" You'll find it very much worthwhile.

Board Doesn't Favor Library Plan For County

The chances for a county library system this year seem remote as a result of a discussion at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

A group representing the Northeast School Parent Teacher Association and Francis Deremer, Corriganville, representing the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce, met with the board to urge that the program be adopted.

Deremer was spokesman for the petitioners and he outlined the need for such a library system. He cited the competition on an educational level with Soviet Russia and the vital need for providing people with books and other material so they may become better informed on world affairs.

Commissioner William A. Wilson told the group that the county board is faced with a financial problem in trying to keep the tax rate within reason. He also said the county would not know what action the City of Cumberland would take if the county went into the library program.

Wilson said the taxpayers of Cumberland would feel they were being taxed double for library facilities as they have their own library in operation. Commissioner James Orr, president of the board, said two-cent increases in the tax rate, which would be required, make adoption of the plan out of the question this year. Orr said there are more important programs for the county to handle at this time.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said he is not opposed to a county library program, but feels that an addition to the County Infirmary is more important at this time than a library plan. He said that $100,000 will be available from the federal government until June 30 for an addition to the infirmary and he would like such a program adopted first.

The commissioners said that a meeting with officials of the City of Cumberland would be desirable so that the ideas of the local government could be obtained on the proposal. Cumberland levies taxes each year for the support of the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Make It Milk

Authorities explained that empty waxed paper milk cartons, preferably the half gallon size, make excellent warning flares. By lighting the tops, drivers can warn approaching traffic at accident scenes or in case of car trouble.

Gold Rush Off

BURNABY, B. C. (AP) — A plan to celebrate British Columbia's Centennial with a "Gold Rush" has been cancelled. It had been planned to hide simulated gold nuggets to be exchanged for prizes by "prospectors." Legal officials said it would be considered a lottery.

Welfare Board Vacancies Become Effective May 31

The terms of two members of the Allegany County Welfare Board expire May 31 and the county commissioners have been asked to nominate candidates to replace them.

Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Department of Welfare, wrote the commissioners that the six-year terms of William R. Carscaden and Earl C. Robertson, both of Cumberland, expire.

To be eligible for appointment the nominees cannot be holding public office, either by election or appointment or be a candidate for political office.

The commissioners will submit the names of nominees for the two posts to the state agency.

John Kelly, 702 Hill Top Drive, requested the commissioners to widen the Pea Vine Run Road, which runs between Valley Road and the Bedford Road.

Kelly informed the board that he can obtain the necessary rights of ways. He said he is interested in a housing development in that area. The matter was turned over to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor.

F. Allan Weatherholt, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Heart Association, wrote the board to request the county to provide a room in the Union Street County Building for office use.

Before World War II, the Soviet Ukraine accounted for nearly a fourth of Russia's entire wheat and corn crops, a third of its barley and two-thirds of its sugar beet output.

Asian Flu Hit Affected Hardy County Schools

Commencement Dates Announced

MOOREFIELD —This winter's Asiatic flu epidemic caused more loss of time in Hardy County's schools than did the weather. Schools in the Lost River Valley and at Old Fields were particularly affected, missing as much as eight days in some classes.

County Superintendent R. S. Dispanet said that all Hardy County schools with the exception of three would have at least the 172 days of attendance in the school year as required by the North Central Association. Dispanet said that schools would make up three to four of the five to eight days missed.

All high school commencement dates remain as scheduled but school closing will vary from May 28 for Dover, May 29 for Baker, Burch, Cleaver, Durgon, Moorefield Elementary, Moorefield High, Oak Dale, Peru, Pleasant Dale, Sanders, Toll Gate, Vaughn and Wardensville, and Mary 30 for Mathias, Lost City and Old Fields.

Good Friday, April 4, was originally scheduled as a holiday for all county schools but will remain open until noon of that day in making up time.

Dispanet said that the state law did not require time lost in an emergency such as the Asiatic flu epidemic to be made up, but that ordinary closing is required to be made up.

Ruritans Launch Program To Eradicate Rabid Foxes

Offer Cash Prizes In Hardy County

MOOREFIELD — The Bean Settlement Ruritan Club is sponsoring a county-wide Fox Eradication Program which started April 1 and will end June 30. Club members have been disturbed about the prevalence of rabies in the fox population and the destruction of poultry, livestock and game by these predators.

A total of 29 prizes will be offered by the Ruritans including a first prize of $100 for the person bagging the most foxes during the three month period. A second prize of $50 will be awarded, a third prize of $25, ten prizes of $10 and 15 prizes of $5 each. A special prize of two turkeys, one to be delivered at Thanksgiving and one to be delivered at Christmas is being given by Paul Bean to the oldest person killing a fox and Marvin Bean is giving the same special prize to the youngest person killing a fox.

The rules of the contest are simple. The fox must be killed in Hardy county during the three-month period and the whole fox or fox hide must be checked in at the check points. The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	1 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Seven of spades.

Declarer lost his game contract today thru an indiscriminate choice of cards to play in developing his principal suit.

Three no trump was reached with dispatch. Holding 19 points plus two 10s, North did not wish to place undue pressure on his partner and proceeded directly to game after South's response.

A heart opening would have sunk the contract but in view of West's spade holding, such a lead would have been abnormal. West led the seven of spades which declarer won with the queen.

Cashable assets appeared to be two spades, one heart, three clubs, and a diamond (seven tricks). It behooved declarer, therefore to try to develop the diamond suit for three tricks.

As for handling the diamonds, the accepted technique is to play on the theory that the king and jack are in different hands—in other words, to take two finesses. On this reasoning he led the queen of diamonds and his goose was cooked when West showed out.

South's theory of play had been sound; but his selection of the card to lead in attacking the diamonds left something to be desired. Observe that had he led a lower card than the queen, the disaster would have been averted for he would have learned of West's void in time. He would then, of course, have gone up with the ace and played back to his hand.

The initial play of the queen will gain a trick whenever East has the singleton jack. On the other hand, the play of the low card will gain a trick when West has a singleton king. These cancel out. However, when West is void, the play of the queen loses a trick, which, as in this case, may be vital to the contract.

"We paid rent on our house before we built it"

A young couple in our town have just moved into a brand-new, wonderful home of their own. From their savings, they used $2500 for the down payment and $1000 more for new things for the house. A while ago, they hit on a smart idea. Every time they paid rent they put an amount equal to a quarter of the rent into their savings account and ear-marked it for their new home. Earnings on their savings helped their account grow. Then came the happy day when they could buy the home they wanted.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

To avoid double-chin and dowager's hump, be sure to carry your head erectly!

Head High

What can be done about a double chin? The muscles are sagging and unless you correct the practice you're going to add a dowager's hump to your double-chin. Both are unnecessary affronts to your beauty.

Remember, the lobe of your ear should always be right straight up from your shoulder bone. Stand before a mirror and use a ruler to check on the position.

If you work at a desk, have your eye sight checked. It may be that you are poring over your work because your eyes need assistance. It is more comfortable and less tiring to sit with your head erect and allow only your eyes to turn down toward your work. When your head goes along with your eyes it is either because you need glasses or because you have allowed yourself to slump into unlovely ways.

Learn to carry your head high, pushing your head back and keeping your ear vertical. As long as your ear is straight up and down, you need not worry that your chin will be carried too high—instead it will always be parallel to the floor in the line of beauty and youth.

While you're retraining your head-holding habit, you may feel strain unless you practice a few relaxing routines. Drop your head forward as far as it will go. Let it hang heavily for a second. Then turn it to the left as far as possible and see how far you can look over your back; again look back over your head as you let your head drop straight back. Next, roll your head over to the right as far as possible. At the outset, try carrying out this daily routine about once per hour.

TOMORROW: Responsible Guests.

Mr. Baruch Advises Against Gambling

The sobering testimony of Bernard Baruch before the Senate Finance Committee the other day may serve to strengthen the Eisenhower Administration's "wait and see" attitude toward cutting taxes. Mr. Baruch's position is neither unique nor original, but his respected position in America — and the fact that he has so often been right — lend weight to whichever side he finds himself supporting.

Whether or not Mr. Baruch is right in saying that deficit financing may be the most dangerous thing America can do, certainly there is merit in watching and waiting to see whether the situation is to become critical before plunging into an all-out tax-cutting and public works program. Such means, applied too soon, could dull the weapons for fighting a really dangerous recession, should one be in the offing. And if an economic crisis is not in prospect, the effort would have been largely wasted and the nation's economy perhaps would have been weakened besides.

Several economic surveys in recent months have pointed to this danger, together with the fact that such economic signs as have turned up so far are so inconclusive as to prevent anyone from predicting either an upturn or a deep recession, on the basis of anything but personal optimism or pessimism.

Mr. Baruch's skepticism as to how much purchasing power would be increased by a tax cut is sensible. Tax Review figures that a $100 increase in personal exemptions would save $80 a year for a married couple with two dependents and $5,000 a year income. While this certainly would be welcome, it hardly would encourage anybody to rush out and buy a new automobile, one of the principal items for which the market has not been good lately. On the other hand, this is an election year, and almost anything may be expected.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

In Memoriam

I watched the televised Oscar award show from Hollywood and found something missing. The emptiness persisted. The void made itself felt like a pain.

When what bothered me, like a ticking of a metronome in my memory, something that produced a sense of bad taste, it came to me that white ties and tails and shimmering dresses are not a cover for vulgarity, for bad manners, for lack of respect.

Only Kim Novak remembered. Only she said the one word that should have been said by others, perhaps with greater eloquence if more words and more gestures make for eloquence.

This Oscar show is the Motion Picture Industry's opportunity to speak of itself to the whole American people in its best language. It is the one occasion on which these men and women may tell all the world that they are indeed serious artists and people, different from the vulgar descriptions of many of them by their press agents and those specialists in the field who revel in the press agents' dreams.

Respectful people always remember their own dead. This year the motion picture world suffered great losses:

Louis B. Mayer, a pioneer of genius, the man who created the most effective expression of this art, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and whose instinct for dramatic expression was responsible for so many stars and so many fine pictures, died.

Louis B. Mayer was an American who loved his country and who battled against every un-American influence in Hollywood, even when he believed that it touched his own company and his own household. Is the memory of Hollywood so short and sickly that there could not be a minute, even a second of silence to honor this father of their industry?

Harry Cohn was a keen observer of life and events, a battler to the top by skill and ingenuity. How many of those who sat in the Oscar show-house, hoping perhaps that the lightning of success might strike them, recalled, apart from Kim Novak, the man who selected them, taught them, helped them, made stars of them? Harry Cohn of Columbia Pictures died this year, died while at work.

Jesse Lasky, one of the pioneers of this industry, who came into it from vaudeville, was a leader in the development of the new art, one of the creators of Paramount, died this year.

Don Hartman, associate of many of those present on this occasion, for years, their friend, teacher and promoter, died this year.

And could they not spare just one minute or perhaps a second to rise to assuage the anguish of their colleague, Elizabeth Taylor, by remembering even by a token lowering of the eye-lids, Mike Todd, who was killed within the week, Mike Todd who brought into this decaying industry new life, new vigor, the hope that stagnation would run before brilliance, as evil disappears before the good.

Hollywood employs producers, directors, technicians, experts, press agents, but what is required is not those whom they can employ to advertise their vices to attract a vulgar era, but those who can give these men and women guidance back to the simple virtues they learned at their mothers' knees, one of which is respect for the living and for the dead. And respect requires an acknowledgment of gratitude for those who smoothed the path of life. For no man or woman is self-made. When John Ford, for instance, took a man off a truck and told him that he was an actor, he created a star. Can the man, in decency, forget that even he was not aware of his talent until someone told him and showed him how?

But there is a little more to this than the waywardness and conceit of show-folks. Involved are the manners of the age, the devil-may-care attitude of those who believe that manners and morals no longer matter, that they were characteristic of another era, that anything goes today which puts a picture in a newspaper or makes a headline, or even for some, a mention in some gossiper's column.

But these are not enough. In fact, they are nothing at all. Our nation was strongest before women boasted over television on the things they can break as Zsa Zsa Gabor did on this occasion when another star, in gentle humility, recalled that Harry Cohn would have been pleased were he alive.

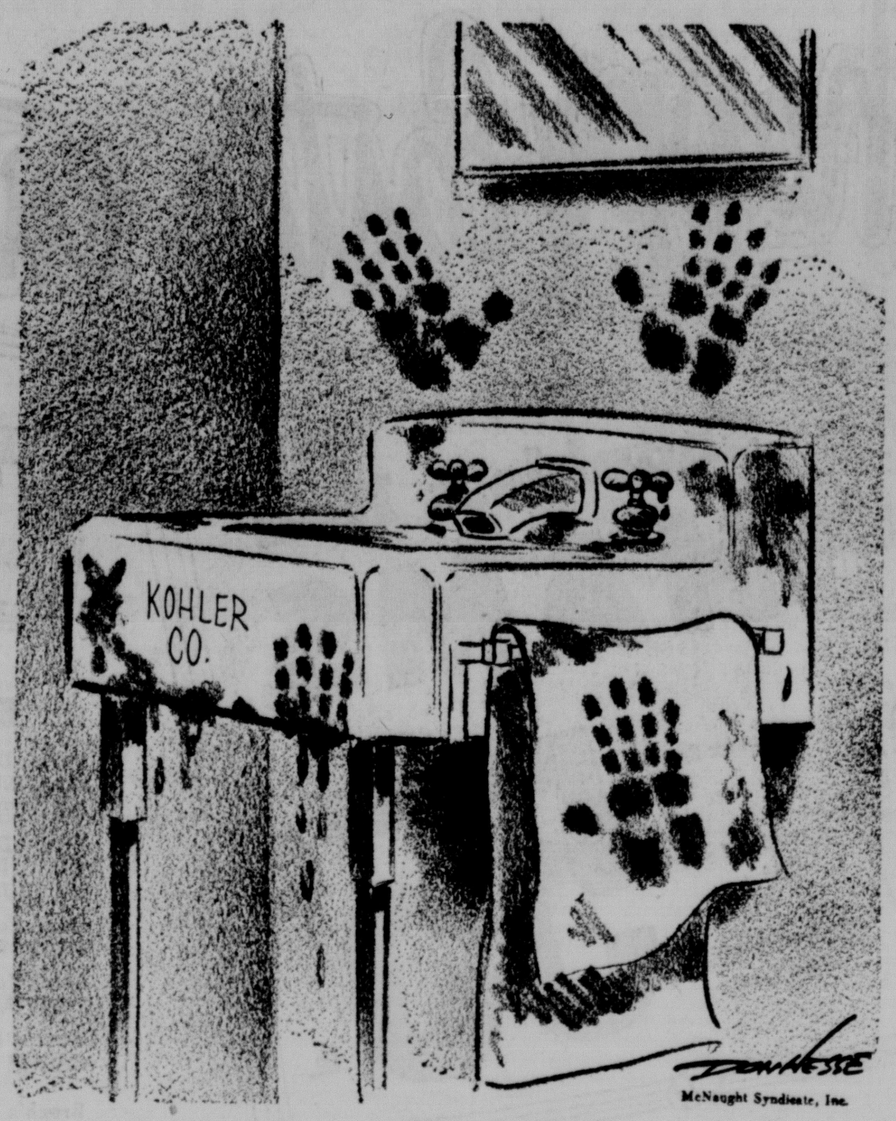
Whose Dirty Hands?



U. S. Let Russia Grab Propaganda Advantage With Ban On Atom Tests

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.— U. S. experts on public opinion admit privately that Moscow scored the No. 1 propaganda victory of the year with the announcement of a unilateral ban of H-bomb tests. It almost equals the No. 1 victory of last year—launching the sputnik.

The Moscow announcement, coming on top of the steady drumbeat of Bulganin notes urging a summit conference and the banning of missile bases in Europe, more than ever has pictured the United States as a warmonger; pictured Russia as the disciple of peace.

The real inside story of how badly the United States muffed the ball on banning H-bomb tests is known only to a few people. As early as September 11, 1956, President Eisenhower and the National Security Council had decided to propose more or less what Moscow proposed this week —a ban on H-bomb tests.

What actually happened at the September 11, 1956 meeting was that Secretary of State Dulles urged a moratorium on the nuclear tests, pointing out that it would win friends for us abroad, would give us the diplomatic initiative, would help convince the world that we are more peace-loving than Moscow.

Harold Stassen immediately agreed with Dulles. Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Lewis Strauss, Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, did not. They warned that Russia might violate any agreement, would test small atomic weapons. They admitted we could detect all large explosions.

In the final voting, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey concurred with Dulles, and the President finally did, too. As is customary in National Security Council meetings, the decision was made unanimous. Though final details were to be worked out later, the tentative plan was to ask Russia to join in suspending H-bomb tests for one year as a "peace experiment." This was to be coupled with a "moral agreement" to outlaw the intercontinental ballistic missile in the same manner poison gas has been outlawed.

Ike Reverses Ike

Approximately one week later, Ike's political advisors warned that Adlai Stevenson had made speeches as early as April, 1956, proposing the end of H-bomb tests, and that he had made another full-dress proposal in early September. The advisers urged that it would be a political mistake to plan into Stevenson's hands by going ahead with the Security Council's decision of September 11.

Eisenhower then reversed himself. On September 19 he came out with a vigorous statement attacking Stevenson's H-bomb proposal as "a theatrical gesture." In speech after speech following this, Eisenhower attacked the Stevenson proposal as political grandstanding. He made it clear he didn't consider Stevenson qualified to discuss atomic energy.

On October 26, the President stormed into the National Security Council meeting and angrily lectured them about leaks. He said he had heard that the September 11 decision regarding H-bomb tests had become known to people outside the council, and as a result he was ordering a full investigation.

On October 29, this column queried the White House as to whether the Security Council had made a decision and then reversed itself. The reply was "no comment." A day or two later, four Democratic Senators made the same inquiry and got a categoric denial.

Health Survey Suspended

Meanwhile, the White House was so embarrassed over Stevenson's proposal to ban nuclear tests that it even played politics with the Public Health Service's survey of radioactivity. Suddenly on September 26, 1956 and without explanation, the survey was canceled.

Ike's blast at Stevenson's prosal had been made on September 19. One week later, Assistant Surgeon General Otis L. Anderson wrote state health officials:

"Field sampling operations in connection with radiation surveillance network will terminate at the close of business Thursday, September 27, 1956."

Twenty-four hours is an extremely abrupt cancellation notice. Many state officials didn't receive the notice before September 27. Anderson was obviously in a hurry. The date of October 1 was scratched out and September 26 typed in. The termination date of September 27 was also typed in.

Previous surveys showed increases of radioactivity as high as 15 to 25 times normal by some monitoring stations. An increase of 10 times normal, according to statements by the Atomic Energy Commission, was considered the alarm point.

Stevenson had proposed the end of H-bomb tests because, he said, the air was becoming dangerously contaminated with radioactive fallout. This was denied by Atomic Energy Chairman Strauss. The surveys made by Public Health Service substantiated Stevenson, contradicted Strauss. The surveys were canceled.

That is the story of how the administration put politics ahead of world peace and the nation's health, thereby permitting Russia to score a great propaganda victory by proposing this week what Stevenson proposed publicly and Eisenhower agreed to privately—and then reversed himself—one year and a half ago.

Summit Parley Should Be Held In 'The Garden'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Some people hereabouts are always urging our own government to take the propaganda "initiative" away from the Soviets. This correspondent has been cogitating about it for some time now and, with all due humility, offers a plan that may at least achieve a high point in dramatic technique.

First, inasmuch as the Kremlin wants a "show" or a spectacular demonstration of some kind, let the "Summit" conference be a show and let it be held in Madison Square Garden, New York City, where it can be witnessed by millions of persons day in and day out.

Second, let an admission fee be charged and the TV rights sold for a big sum. Then let all the proceeds be distributed to the families of the thousands of Hungarian patriots who were killed or maimed in the recent attempt of the Hungarian people to regain their freedom.

Third, if the foregoing—which requires international agreement — cannot be achieved, let there be some "unilateral" decisions made. This means that, without any agreement with the other party, one side takes it upon itself to stop doing certain things that are harmful to people in another country.

Thus, the Soviet government could stop oppressing the people of Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania. This is far more important than to stop "testing" nuclear bombs. For it is asserted by the scientists that the amount of radioactivity from nuclear tests isn't any more harmful than medical X-rays or the luminous rays of a wrist watch. As for the police measures taken by the Kremlin to deprive millions of persons in Eastern Europe of their liberties, this is much more damaging to mankind. Indeed, many people would prefer death to any enslaved life under Communist tyranny.

Another "unilateral" decision Moscow could take would be to open up her radio and television to ambassadors from foreign countries just as America does.

Still another bit of "unilateral" righteousness which the Communists could exhibit would be to let law-abiding citizens of other countries travel where they like inside the Soviet Union.

The Soviets might also make a "unilateral" resolution to admit not just a handful of correspondents to reside in Moscow but as many as wish to do so. This is what a free press really means. What are the Communists afraid of? Why do they maintain censorship on all outgoing news and radio broadcasts made by correspondents resident in Moscow?

There is another "unilateral" adventure on which Moscow might embark. It could return the territory of East Germany to the people of Germany. This is a step which would do much more to hasten the peace of Europe than any phony gestures about stopping the testing of nuclear weapons.

"Unilateral" is a big word nowadays in the propaganda of the Communists. It implies self-denial and a wish to go ahead with good deeds irrespective of whether an adversary does the same. But, strictly speaking, the latest proposal of the Soviets isn't one-sided at all. While agreeing to give up the testing of nuclear bombs for a while, the threat is also made to resume testing later on if the United States doesn't also agree to stop testing. So it's really a maneuver that merely publicizes a fake desire for an international arrangement to stop testing. The United States has all along advocated the same objective but has insisted on a system of safeguards to prevent concealment or cheating.

There is a place where this kind of agreement can be negotiated. It's in the United Nations Disarmament Commission. But the Soviets have not been willing thus far to go again to that body for further talks. It's really a boycott of the United Nations. The Communists seem to prefer the theatrical stuff which, they believe, will deceive the world, including many gullible persons in America.

So maybe the Madison Square Garden idea is the answer after all. Of course, nothing would be agreed to there, but this would also be true of any other type of conference.

For there will be no peace until menacing dictatorships are overthrown and the world has been made "safe for democracy." This was a World War I slogan, but it is even more pertinent today when some of the large empires of the past which nourished freedom are being broken into fragments due to alleged "nationalistic" feeling, only to have these smaller countries gathered one by one under the yoke of Soviet imperialism. Meanwhile, the remainder of the free world, threatened by aggression, staggers under the heavy cost of armament.

It would be relatively inexpensive to carry the true story to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain so that they will know that the appeasers in our midst are not the spokesmen of the West. It is important that the oppressed peoples should never feel they have been forsaken but that, instead, they can rely on the moral support of the whole world whenever they start breaking the chains of their bondage.

Reuther's Problem

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK — (INS) — Old Detroit hand, who knows his way around the newspaper and the union shops, supplies me with a foot-note to a recent series on the auto industry and the chief cause of some portion of its current migraine — Walter Reuther.

"In accounting for what makes Reuther run," he writes, "importance should be given to his short term of office. As I have heard him say quite often, you can't be a labor statesman when you have to stand for re-election every two years. Instead, you have to spend all your time running to stay where you are.

"Reuther said the term should be at least four years or even six. He might have added — but didn't in so many words — that to be returned to office a union officer must have victories even if he has to start a war to get one.

"The same situation applies at the local level. At Kaiser, where I became friendly with officers of the local, they used to explain that their outrageous demands were the most moderate they could offer and still retain office. The alternative was to see the more radical 'outs' elected with an even more outlandish platform.

"Yet these friendly realists 'bargained' the company out of any chance it might have had for survival by demanding and getting concessions which would have busted GM. Perhaps if they'd have four-year terms they could have afforded to be constructive for the first two years. Likewise Reuther. But if he became reasonable just once under the present setup we'd get Mazey."

Emil Mazey, Canadian-born secretary-treasurer of the United Automobile Workers, is considered by many to be much less conservative than Reuther who, in turn, has been called a radical.

Bill O'Dwyer has become what amounts to an American elder statesman on Latin American affairs. A connection that started almost casually, after his tenure as Ambassador to Mexico City, has ripened into the number one work of his later and active life. He could be our best informed man on a portion of the world the U.S. government so often neglects.

"In a few short years we're going to have 200,000,000 people living in Latin America," the former New York Mayor told us the other day. "They'll represent the world's greatest market for the products of U.S. industry. They can buy and use everything we can possibly sell them within the next 20 years, until such time as they can produce sufficient quantities to satisfy their own domestic consumption.

"The market is there, the spirit of cooperation is there, but we can't take it for granted. We must win it. If we don't, other nations will. They're already trying harder than we are. The Sino-Soviet bloc will do a quarter-billion-dollar business in Latin America this year, and that's just the start. It could run into billions shortly, and we have nine billions of trade with those people at stake right now."

Bill suggests: 1) Lower tariffs; 2) Buy their oil or the Reds will; 3) Low interest, long term loans to Latin American governments for road-building, educational and resource development; 4) A fairer partnership arrangement in industries jointly owned; 5) Greater exchange of students, teachers, professional men and technicians ". . . and above all let's learn each other's language so we can talk to each other." He praised U.S. Ambassador-to-Mexico Hill, and urged more tourists to look southward. "U.S. people are better than U.S. dollars," he said. "Our people are born ambassadors."

Marie Aubuchon, the St. Louis editor who prays daily for the conversion of Khrushchev, gives us an interim report:

"I am not too worried about my friend Nikita. You see, I have learned that he was once a shepherd boy. Ever since Bethlehem, I believe God has a love for shepherds. They were the first to hear an angel's invitation to visit Christ. So I think that even an ex-shepherd will find that he can't escape the love of God. The hill of power where Khrushchev stands must be just as cold and lonely as that hill in Bethlehem and an angel's song could be just as welcome, and the smile of the Child just as warm."

Spring Cold? Maybe You Can Blame The Trees

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Spring colds often result from allergy to tree pollen. This must be kept in mind whenever hay fever symptoms develop between mid-March and the end of May. It is at this time that elms, poplar, beech, sycamore, ash, birch, oak and hickory are doing their best to propagate their species.

A physician must be a good botanist to understand allergy. Asthma and hay fever stem from the inhalation of various pollen from trees, grasses, and weeds as well as from fungi.

The plant world has its pollination season. This explains why a person who is allergic to these granules encounters symptoms only during specific times of the year. Sneezing, nasal congestion, and redness of the eyes arise when pollen concentration is high.

If these telltale manisfestations occur in the middle of June, grass allergy is suspected. Plaintain and sorrel are the most common offenders.

Hay fever sufferers complain of burning and tickling sensations in the nose shortly after August 15 when ragweed begins to pollinate.

The distribution and concentration of pollen depend upon climatic factors such as wind, sunshine, rainfall, and humidity. Rain lessens the count; sunshine increases it.

When the wind is right, the individual is affected by pollen from neighboring vegetation as well as from that blowing in from distant areas. Ordinary pollen is invisible to the eye even though the air is filled with it during the height of the season. A single ragweed plant, for example, has been known to produce 8 billion granules of pollen in five hours.

POSITIVE BLOOD

D. T. writes: Ten years ago I finished two years of treatment for syphillis. For the last decade I have had blood tests every six months and one in four shows up positive. Would a blood test every year be sufficient now?

REPLY

Your physician is in a better position to advise you than I am. While your blood reaction may never become completely negative, he must have a good reason for advising you to have the tests made every six months. Syphillis is a complex disease, with many ramifications. Even if you no longer are contagious and the infection is quiescent, it is wise to check the blood periodically.

INSOMNIA

Mrs. K. writes: I always slept well but recently have been waking up after an hour. Then I find it difficult to get back to sleep. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

This pattern of sleeplessness is not uncommon. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on insomnia, which may offer you some helpful suggestions.

MAKE SOME CHANGE

D. F. T. writes: I have taken 300 pills for arthritis without relief. Should I go on or change doctors?

REPLY

Change pills. There are several good remedies for arthritis and if your physician is not familiar with them, a consultation with a specialist is in order.

BIRTHMARK CHANGES

E. L. writes: If a birthmark becomes itchy suddenly in middle-age, does this mean it has turned cancerous?

REPLY

No, but if scratching the area causes excessive irritation, malignancy is encouraged. Changes in size and color are more common signs of cancer.

TOLERANCE TO ALCOHOL

F. R. writes: Does loss of tolerance for alcohol come with age?

REPLY

Yes, but in many instances increased tolerance is due to the more frequent and longer use of alcohol.

HEADACHE FROM ALCOHOL

Mrs. M. M. writes: What causes a terrific headache to develop after drinking a small amount of any alcoholic beverage?

REPLY

This is not a hangover but a reaction to alcohol. Headache may occur because of allergy, dilatation of cerebral blood vessels, and congestion along the nasal passageways or in the sinuses.

TOMORROW: Weakness of voluntary muscles.

Try And Stop Me

A sweet young thing toyed with the notion of signing up for a shorthand course. "When we get finished with you," promised the enrollment clerk, "you'll be accurate, dependable, and neat." "What about speed?" persisted the applicant. "Our last nine graduates," said the enrollment clerk calmly, "married their bosses inside of five months."

"How come a beautiful young girl like you was fired by that old wolf at the Third National?" the applicant for a job was asked. She explained demurely, "It was because of a mistake I wouldn't make."

Love in the second grade: Wrote Judy to the lad in front of her, "I love you. Do you love me?" The lad replied, "I do." "That's exactly what I didn't want to say," he explained to his dad that evening, "but I can't spell 'don't.'"

Budget Cut Proposed By Wilkinson

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson yesterday had his objections to a number of items in the County Roads Department budget inserted in the minutes of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Wilkinson suggests that $10,000 be cut from the item for repair parts, $10,000 from the item for stone, $10,000 from the asphalt budget item, $2,000 for pipe, $3,000 for lumber, cement and sand.

The overall total which Wilkinson urges be cut is $53,000. The total budget estimate submitted by J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, is $430,384.20.

Wilkinson also objected to the extension of the time for acting on proposals for coverage for county employes under a group insurance policy.

Six firms submitted proposals last week and they were analyzed by Henry Duke, a local insurance broker. Duke informed the board that the proposals vary and each of the firms should be told of the situation so they could make an offer on an even basis.

The proposals will be acted upon May 1 and proposals from the insurance firms must be resubmitted prior to April 20.

Group coverage for county employes is on life insurance, sickness and accident and hospitalization.

The commissioners have sent letters to each county employe notifying them that they may participate in the insurance program if they so desire, but it is not mandatory to enter into the system.

The county and employes pay an equal portion of the cost of the group insurance.

State Lets Boulevard Contract

The State Roads Commission has awarded the contract to build 1.084 miles of the eastern end of the industrial boulevard in South Cumberland to the Cumberland Contracting Company.

The local firm was the apparent low bidder when bids were opened and the figure as accepted by the SRC is $779,305.

George Geary, assistant District 6 SRC engineer in charge of construction, announced the company expects to get the order to proceed about April 15.

While the weather has been holding back some projects, the Cumberland Countracting Company was able to get started Monday on the Route 36 project between the Narrows and the completed section of that road east of Corriganville.

Considerable grading had been completed until winter weather forced the firm to shut down. This project will tie in with the new bridge that the S. T. Brotemarkle Company is completing across Braddock Run.

When the bridge is completed and the roadway finished, Route 36 will have a new intersection with Route 40 just under the Western Maryland Railway bridge in the Narrows.

Geary said the weather has held the Brotemarkle firm from beginning its spring start on its work on Route 220 south of Rawlings.

The company has about a month's work, mostly on the shoulders, before the job is completed.

Eighth Paid Holiday

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Evinrude Motors Division of Outboard Maine Corp. and the United Steelworkers Union signed a new one-year contract Tuesday providing for a wage increase and an eighth paid holiday a year.

The holiday this year will fall on July 7 and give the firm's 1,600 employes a four-day weekend. The date will be renegotiated each year.

Salaries Cut 10%

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania Railroad employes earning over $10,000 a year Tuesday took a 10 per cent salary cut.

The railroad said the action was approved by its board of directors as "part of Pennsylvania Railroad's over-all adjustment to economic conditions." The cut is for an indefinite period.

New York May Regret Trading Ralph Terry

Young Fireballer Expects Big Year

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., April 2 — (INS) — The New York Yankees, who rarely part with a good player, may live to regret the trading of youthful right hander Ralph Terry.

When the 22-year-old fireballer pitched a five-hit shutout for Kansas City against Philadelphia last week, he gave every indication that he was ready for a banner season.

Last year, Terry had a 5 and 12 record, 4 and 11 with the Athletics. One of his wins was over his former teammates and he lost a one-hitter to them in the ninth inning.

"I guess I try a little harder against the Yanks," Terry said. "Everybody bears down just a little harder against New York. But it's a real challenge to me when I'm out there on the mound against them."

Counts On Terry

Manager Harry Craft of the Athletics has been very pleased during the five weeks Terry has been at the West Palm Beach training camp. It is no secret that Craft is counting on Terry to be his "number one starter," Craft said:

"Ralph was awful good last year even though he lost 11 games for us. But four of those games were by one run. His earned run average with the A's was 3.38 just a little over Jack Urban. With any kind of luck, he should win 15 games for us."

Pitching coach Spud Chandler, a Yankee great in the 1930s, is sold on the Chelsea, Okla., hurler. Chandler believes Terry will "win 20 games" this season. He says, "if not this season, then next year or in 1960."

Chandler said he would not like to see Terry traded "unless we could get Herb Score" of Cleveland.

Suffered Hip Fracture

Terry suffered a hip fracture last Nov. 10 in an automobile accident but has not shown any ill effects.

Craft believes Terry, Urban southpaw Alex Kellner and Duke Maas who was acquired from Detroit, "Should give the team a big lift in the standings." Last year Kansas City finished eighth and never has wound up higher than sixth (1955).

Maryland Lacrosse Team Victorious

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Maryland's powerful lacrosse team opened its 1958 season Wednesday by smothering Princeton 15-1 with Dick Corrigan's 4 goals leading the way.

The Togers made a game of it in the "tight" first quarter when Maryland scored only twice. In that period, when Maryland took only six shots at the Tigers' goal, Princeton was on the attack persistently.

The distaff side of the family is the female side, so called because the ladies once spun thread from the flax on the distaff.

Nala Is Winner At Laurel Track

LAUREL, Md., April 2 (AP) — Nala moved a step nearer to a starting berth in the Kentucky Derby by winning the $5,000 Ft. Meyer Purse at Laurel Race Course today.

The Nasrullah Colt, owned by Mrs. Martion Dupont Scott, of Orange, Va., took the lead on the final turn and won, by six lengths in 1.47 for the mile and a sixteenth. Nala paid $4.00, $2.60 and $2.20.

Hal Bishop's Premberton, another Kentucky Derby eligible, finished second and paid $2.60 and $2.40. Powhatan Farm's Michore, which finished third, paid $2.60.

Nala will make his next start in the $20,000-added Chesapeake Stakes, Maryland's leading derby trial event, to be run this year on April 19, two weeks prior to the derby.

Phillies Edge Dodgers, 4-3

Jones' Hit In 14th Wins Overtime Tilt

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Willie Jones' single with the bases loaded in the 14th inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday.

Joe Lonnett opened the inning with a single off Jackie Collum, and went to third when Collum's attempted pickoff was wild. After pitcher Dick Farrell had grounded out, Richie Ashburn and Dave Philley were intentionally passed, and Jones' single did the rest.

The teams went into extra innings in a 2-2 tie. In the top of the 12th Joe Pignatano, running for Rube Walker, who had singled, scored on a squeeze as Don Zimmer put down a fine bunt.

The Phillies evened it up in their half on Chuck Essegian's pinch single, a sacrifice, and Granny Hamner's double.

Red Wings Retain Abel As Coach

DETROIT, April 2 (INS)—The Detroit Red Wings today signed Coach Sid Abel to a new contract for the 1958-59 National Hockey League season.

The Wings were eliminated from the 1957-58 Stanley Cup playoffs last night when they lost a 4 to 3 decision to the Montreal Canadiens, who took the semi-final series in four straight games.

Abel, a star for the Wings in his playing days, took over as coach in January when Jim Skinner stepped aside because of illness.

Tribe Bows To Cubs, 8-2

Drott, Phillips Hurl Seven-Hitter

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Dick Drott and Taylor Phillips limited Cleveland to seven hits as the Chicago Cubs whipped the Indians, 8-2, Wednesday.

It was windup for Cleveland at its training headquarters. Bob Speake homered for the Cubs and Lee Walls cracked a bases-loaded double as the National Leaguers tallied four runs in the ninth inning.

The Indians scored all their runs in the sixth frame on singles by Chico Carrasquel and Roger Maris and a double by Preston Ward. Drott hurled the first six innings and Phillips was on the mound for the final three.

The Cubs scored three runs in the first two innings off Mike Garcia, but were blanked over the next three frames by Don Mossi.

Speake hit his homer off Chuck Churn and the Cubs' four runs in the ninth came at the expense of Hal Woodeschick.

Feathers Pick Up Handsome Fight Checks

Bassey Retained Title In Knockout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hogan (Kid) Bassey, the winner and still featherweight champion of the world, and Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno, the loser, had a warm welcome for each other Wednesday along with a handsome payday.

Bassey, the Nigerian who knocked Mexico's "Little Bird" out in three rounds Tuesday night, picked up a check for $70,000 for his night's quick work.

Moreno's injured pride was soothed somewhat with his guarantee of $38,000.

The two met at the Olympic Auditorium, along with their handlers, for the payoff.

Bassey sported a slight swelling under his right eye, the result of a Moreno blow in the first round, and Moreno's left eye was bruised black.

They embraced and shook hands willingly for cameramen, each forgetting that before 19,686 fans they were trying to knock the other's head off.

There were moments, however, especially when someone extended sympathies, that the 21-year-old Mexican lad couldn't hold back the tears.

Matchmaker George Parnassus announced the official gross gate for the non-televised scheduled 15-rounder was $215,047.06 and the net $184,507.05.

Parnassus hopes to bring Bassey back for a title fight with Davey Moore, a ranking American featherweight from Springfield, Ohio.

Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, is willing.

Rory Calhoun Wins TKO Over Pompey

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rory Calhoun, a double-barrelled puncher from White Plains, New York, scored a technical knockout over Yolande Pompey in the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round fight Wednesday night.

Pompey, cut over the left eye, was no match for his opponent, the nation's sixth ranking middleweight in Ring Magazine's ratings.

Calhoun, after pummelling his Trinidad opponent vigorously in the first two rounds, opened a cut and Pompey, Ring's third ranking light heavyweight, was unable to answer the bell for the sixth.

Rodgers' Homer Wins Game, 9-8

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Rookie San Francisco shortstop Andre Rodgers hit an inside-the-park two-run homer in the ninth for a 9-8 Giant victory over the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday.

Rodgers' drive down the right-field line dropped and rolled away from outfielder Al Pilarcik. The shortstop from the Bahamas went all the way around as Willie Kirkland scored in front of him.

The Giants went into the final frame trailing in two runs. Baltimore had unleashed a 12-hit attack that included homers by Bob Nieman, Dick Williams and Billy Gardner.

The Giants collected a total of 14 hits off three Baltimore pitchers—Johnny Fisher, Charlie Beamon and George Zuverink. The Orioles got a two-run lead in the first off ace lefthander Johnny Antonelli and built a 4-0 lead by the top of the fifth, before the Giants began chipping away.

Following him will be two sophomores, Regis Fair as the catcher, and Frank Paczewski in centerfield.

The Mountaineers are making their southern junket during the Easter vacation.

Five Guardsmen From Keyser To Begin Training

Group Assigned To Fort Knox

KEYSER — Five additional members of Battery C, 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion, Keyser National Guard, will enter six months active duty training this month, according to Chief Warrant Officer Robert L. Brummage, unit personnel administrator in Keyser.

The guardsmen will leave on a B&O train Saturday evening for Fort Knox, Ky., where they will be assigned to basic combat training companies at the fort, for RFA trainees.

Privates Herbert J. Barton, Samuel E. Biser, Robert V. Raines, Renick Williams and Robert Flynn will take three months regular army basic before being transferred to specialized schools for advanced study.

Due to an economy program by the Department of Army, the West Virginia National Guard has a quota restricting the number of new enlistees who may take the six months training program each month. Mr. Brummage said that due to this cutback, applicants for enlistment in the Keyser unit will be placed on a waiting basis, since it is mandatory for each new member to undergo the RFA-55 training.

Keyser Fails To Support Blood Bank

KEYSER — Keyser once again fell way below its quota in the periodical visit of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit in this city yesterday. Only 48 pints of blood were donated although the quota for the area was 150. Three others were rejected.

J. Kenna Burke, chairman of the Blood Bank here, expressed disappointment in such a poor turnout but explained that part of the blame rested in the fact that many were ill from flu-like diseases and then, too, the closeness of visits may have had some bearing. The unit was here the latter part of January.

In order to continue receiving the service of the bloodmobile unit in the future Keyser must meet its quota during the next visit. According to the regulations set up by the Red Cross, the amount not secured during this visit should also be made up.

Train Wrecks Stalled Auto On Crossing

PIEDMONT — An automobile was demolished when struck by a fast Baltimore and Ohio express train here Tuesday, but no one was injured as the driver jumped from the car before it was hit.

B&O Policeman Thomas Y. Engle said the accident occurred when the 1951 Plymouth of Halley F. Cottrill, 47, Clarksburg, was struck by a westbound express train on Kenny House Hill crossing.

Engle said Cottrill, an employe of the U. S. Post Office Department, told him he had driven down the hill and onto the crossing when his car stalled on the westbound tracks. As he was trying to start it again, he heard the warning bells and saw the gates go down at the crossing.

Piedmont Patrolman Robert Mongold tried to help Cottrill push his car off the crossing, but when they failed Cottrill grabbed his luggage out of the car and fled as the train approached.

Engineer J. H. Andrews of Cumberland said he threw the train into emergency when he saw the car on the crossing, but could not stop in time to avoid the crash. The car was thrown against the crossing gates, smashing them and causing an estimated $300 damage.

Area Youths Face Hearings On Monday

Officials Of Two States Interested

KEYSER — Maryland authorities have placed a detainer warrant against Lynwood Thorn, 22, of McMullen Highway, on an assault charge evolving from an altercation last month near Lonaconing.

Thorn is presently serving a 60-day sentence in Mineral County Jail in Keyser, W. Va., after being found guilty by Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle on a charge of throwing a beer bottle into a "juke box" in a Piedmont, W. Va., establishment.

Allegany County authorities said Thorn allegedly struck Eugene Baker of near Klondyke in the face with a beer bottle, breaking the latter's nose in three places.

Baker, they stated, was a hitchhiker who was picked up by six youths, ranging in ages from 18 to 22, in an automobile on March 24. The injured man and another unidentified hitchhiker later were reportedly pushed from the automobile by the occupants.

Also reportedly involved in the incident were Francis Zacot, Fred Linaburg, Bryan Wotring, Gary Burgess and Terry Maine, all of the Keyser area. Maryland authorities did not indicate whether charges would be placed against the other five youths pending further investigation of the alleged assault.

Meanwhile, Miss Bazzle in Keyser said a hearing on felonious assault charges involving the dragging of a 25-year-old Piedmont man with an automobile will be held Monday at 4:30 p. m. for Zacot, Wotring and Linaburg.

Paul Roderick of Piedmont was injured on March 24 when he was dragged a considerable distance by the moving car while being held by the occupants of the vehicle. Linaburg allegedly was the driver of the car while Wotring and Zacot are said to have held Roderick's arms as the automobile moved.

West Virginia police also are investigating a report the same gang was involved in an assault on a motorist near Bloomington the same night.

Bess Residence Off New Creek Drive Is Sold

KEYSER — Three real estate transactions, one of them involving one of the most desirable residence properties in the entire area, were announced by Harry E. Oss, local real estate agent who handled the deals.

Dr. Paul T. Healy has purchased the home of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Bess, just off New Creek Drive about two miles south of Keyser Oss said. Called "The Top O' The Brae," by the Besses, it is a ranch-type home consisting of eight rooms, including four bedrooms on the ground floor. It has three baths, servants quarters and a large recreation room in the basement. The residence is about 10 years old.

The Healys and their three children plan to move into the house in about six weeks. They presently reside in a home on New Creek Drive owned by Warren Boggs, a short distance from the Bess home.

Dr. Bess said he had no immediate plans for the future. He added that he and Mrs. Bess planned to spend most of the summer in their cottage, "The Wee Hoose," in Cathedral National Forest near Aurora.

At the same time Oss announced that Carl Hall, a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad employe, had purchased the seven-room frame residence of Mrs. Rose Jackson at 76 D Street, and that Mrs. Georgie Nethken had purchased the seven-room residence at 125 Orchard Street from Mrs. Mary Waldron.

Keyser Moose Will Again Sponsor Easter Carlift

KEYSER — "Operation Easter Carlift," planned to help persons who are handicapped by illness, disability or lacking transportation to attend Easter Services in the church of their choice, will be sponsored through the action of Moose Lodge No. 662, according to John W. Staggers, civic affairs committee chairman of the lodge.

Those desiring transportation are asked to telephone the lodge, giving their names, addresses, church and the time of service. Moose telephone number is Keyser 26481 any day after 3 p. m.

The clerymen of Keyser have been contacted by letter in an effort to determine how many persons will require this free transportation.

All residents who would like to avail themselves of this service should contact the local Moose lodge as soon as possible.

"Operation Carlift" was inaugurated by the Moose five years ago to help bring people closer to God on Easter Sunday.

Sportsmen Map Fishing Rodeo Plans Tonight

FROSTBURG — Leslie Bevan, president of the Allegany-Garrett County Sportsman's Association, has announced that a planning meeting for the children's fishing rodeo in May will be held tonight at 8 o'clock on the second floor of the Young Men's Republican Club. Following the business meeting, refreshments will be served.

Plans for the rodeo, which includes children 14 years old and younger, will be held at the supply dam on Little Savage River at the pumping station located there. The dam will be stocked the night before and Explorer Scouts of Frostburg will camp overnight at the site to prevent any fishing before the rodeo starts. The awards group and the stocking committee will be appointed tonight.

Bevans also said that a report will be given on the dog training areas south of Frostburg, that are supervised by the club. Members of the club have been making regular trips to the area with feed.

In Memoriam

HAWKINS — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Richard J., who passed away suddenly April 3, 1957.
We walked together, you and I,
In sorrow and in joy.
We shared our pains and happiness
With love without alloy,
And death shall never end our love
For thru the mist I see
Our glad reunion in the sky—
For all eternity!
Loving wife, Grace
TO DAD
Somewhere above this troubled world,
Safe beyond all grief and care,
Our father rests in heavenly peace—
God grant some day we'll meet him there.
Loving sons, Dale and Richard Jr.

Asian Flu Hit Affected Hardy County Schools

Commencement Dates Announced

MOOREFIELD —This winter's Asiatic flu epidemic caused more loss of time in Hardy County's schools than did the weather. Schools in the Lost River Valley and at Old Fields were particularly affected, missing as much as eight days in some classes.

County Superintendent R. S. Dispanet said that all Hardy County schools with the exception of three would have at least the 172 days of attendance in the school year as required by the North Central Association. Dispanet said that schools would make up three to four of the five to eight days missed.

All high school commencement dates remain as scheduled but school closing will vary from May 28 for Dover, May 29 for Baker, Burch, Cleaver, Durgon, Moorefield Elementary, Moorefield High, Oak Dale, Peru, Pleasant Dale, Sanders, Toll Gate, Vaughn and Wardensville, and Mary 30 for Mathias, Lost City and Old Fields.

Good Friday, April 4, was originally scheduled as a holiday for all county schools but will remain open until noon of that day in making up time.

Dispanet said that the state law did not require time lost in an emergency such as the Asiatic flu epidemic to be made up, but that ordinary closing is required to be made up.

A second prize of $50 will be awarded, a third prize of $25, ten prizes of $10 and 15 prizes of $5 each. A special prize of two turkeys, one to be delivered at Thanksgiving and one to be delivered at Christmas is being given by Paul Bean to the oldest person killing a fox and Marvin Bean is giving the same special prize to the youngest person killing a fox.

The rules of the contest are simple. The fox must be killed in Hardy county during the three-month period and the whole fox or fox hide must be checked in at the check points. Randolph Pifer Keyser Senior To Get Award

Science Medal Winner Named

KEYSER — Randolph Pifer, a member of the Senior Class of Keyser High School, is the 1958 winner of the Bausch and Lomb honorary science award medal for achieving the highest scholastic record in science during his high school studies, it was announced by Owen S. Schaeffer, science instructor at KHS. His average in science for four years science for four years is 3.800.

Only winners of this award, which is presented annually in more than 6,000 schools throughout the United States, are eligible to compete for the Bausch and Lomb science scholarships sponsored by the Bausch and Lomb Optical Company at the University of Rochester.

Pifer is now eligible for one of a group of major science scholarships sponsored by the Bausch and Lomb Company. The Rochester scholarship committee studies all applications and selects 30 of the most promising candidates as finalists. These students are notified of their selection late in March, and the finalists from all parts of the country are invited to Rochester for three days with all expenses paid for interviews and competitive tests to determine the scholarship winners.

The award is given to encourage the pursuit of scientific careers and to reward high scholastic achievement. Market Takes Its Worst Tumble Since January 10

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market took its worst tumble since Jan. 10 as vigorous selling shook prices late Wednesday.

Leading issues were down fractions to 2 points and more.

An estimated $1,800,000,000 was erased from quoted values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the Associated Press average.

Continued poor reports by heavy industries such as steel and automobile manufacturing combined with a flow of pessimistic forecasts on first quarter earnings to bring the heavy selling, brokers said.

The government report that the steady rise of consumer installment debt had ground to a halt was a bearish factor in the background. Auto assemblies in March reportedly fell to their lowest level for the month since 1948. A Labor Dept. official predicted a rise in the unemployment figures for March.

The break, second sharpest this year, followed six days of moderate, general declines.

The AP 60-stock average dropped $1.40 to $160.10 with the industrials down $2.70, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 4.26 to 441.21.

Of 1,136 issues traded, declines totaled 672 and advances 216. New lows for 1958 totaled 44 and new highs 36.

Volume rose to 2,390,000 shares from 2,070,000 Tuesday. Only 3 of the 15 most active stocks rose, 10 declined and 2 were unchanged.

Lorillard, continuing a renewed rise in expectations of good earnings, was the most active stocks, up 1¼ at 53⅞ on 92,800 shares. Second was Royal Dutch, off ½ at 40¼ on 40,400 shares. Third was Raytheon, up ⅛ at 24¾ on 35,300 shares.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	1 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Seven of spades.

Declarer lost his game contract today thru an indiscriminate choice of cards to play in developing his principal suit.

Three no trump was reached with dispatch. Holding 19 points plus two 10s, North did not wish to place undue pressure on his partner and proceeded directly to game after South's response.

A heart opening would have sunk the contract but in view of West's spade holding, such a lead would have been abnormal. West led the seven of spades which declarer won with the queen.

Cashable assets appeared to be two spades, one heart, three clubs, and a diamond (seven tricks). It behooved declarer, therefore to try to develop the diamond suit for three tricks.

As for handling the diamonds, the accepted technique is to play on the theory that the king and jack are in different hands—in other words, to take two finesses. On this reasoning he led the queen of diamonds and his goose was cooked when West showed out.

South's theory of play had been sound; but his selection of the card to lead in attacking the diamonds left something to be desired. Observe that had he led a lower card than the queen, the disaster would have been averted for he would have learned of West's void in time. He would then, of course, have gone up with the ace and played back to his hand.

The initial play of the queen will gain a trick whenever East has the singleton jack. On the other hand, the play of the low card will gain a trick when West has a singleton king. These cancel out. However, when West is void, the play of the queen loses a trick, which, as in this case, may be vital to the contract.

"We paid rent on our house before we built it"

A young couple in our town have just moved into a brand-new, wonderful home of their own. From their savings, they used $2500 for the down payment and $1000 more for new things for the house. A while ago, they hit on a smart idea. Every time they paid rent they put an amount equal to a quarter of the rent into their savings account and ear-marked it for their new home. Earnings on their savings helped their account grow. Then came the happy day when they could buy the home they wanted.

The place they chose to save was our Insured Savings and Loan Association. Here, generous dividends, compounded, and friendly cooperation make any savings plan work more quickly, more easily. Savings are insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government. Mr. Baruch Advises Against Gambling

The sobering testimony of Bernard Baruch before the Senate Finance Committee the other day may serve to strengthen the Eisenhower Administration's "wait and see" attitude toward cutting taxes. Mr. Baruch's position is neither unique nor original, but his respected position in America — and the fact that he has so often been right — lend weight to whichever side he finds himself supporting.

Whether or not Mr. Baruch is right in saying that deficit financing may be the most dangerous thing America can do, certainly there is merit in watching and waiting to see whether the situation is to become critical before plunging into an all-out tax-cutting and public works program. Such means, applied too soon, could dull the weapons for fighting a really dangerous recession, should one be in the offing. And if an economic crisis is not in prospect, the effort would have been largely wasted and the nation's economy perhaps would have been weakened besides.

Several economic surveys in recent months have pointed to this danger, together with the fact that such economic signs as have turned up so far are so inconclusive as to prevent anyone from predicting either an upturn or a deep recession, on the basis of anything but personal optimism or pessimism.

Mr. Baruch's skepticism as to how much purchasing power would be increased by a tax cut is sensible. Tax Review figures that a $100 increase in personal exemptions would save $80 a year for a married couple with two dependents and $5,000 a year income. While this certainly would be welcome, it hardly would encourage anybody to rush out and buy a new automobile, one of the principal items for which the market has not been good lately. On the other hand, this is an election year, and almost anything may be expected.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

In Memoriam

I watched the televised Oscar award show from Hollywood and found something missing. The emptiness persisted. The void made itself felt like a pain.

When what bothered me, like a ticking of a metronome in my memory, something that produced a sense of bad taste, it came to me that white ties and tails and shimmering dresses are not a cover for vulgarity, for bad manners, for lack of respect.

Only Kim Novak remembered. Only she said the one word that should have been said by others, perhaps with greater eloquence if more words and more gestures make for eloquence.

This Oscar show is the Motion Picture Industry's opportunity to speak of itself to the whole American people in its best language. It is the one occasion on which these men and women may tell all the world that they are indeed serious artists and people, different from the vulgar descriptions of many of them by their press agents and those specialists in the field who revel in the press agents' dreams.

Respectful people always remember their own dead. This year the motion picture world suffered great losses:

Louis B. Mayer, a pioneer of genius, the man who created the most effective expression of this art, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and whose instinct for dramatic expression was responsible for so many stars and so many fine pictures, died.

Louis B. Mayer was an American who loved his country and who battled against every un-American influence in Hollywood, even when he believed that it touched his own company and his own household. Is the memory of Hollywood so short and sickly that there could not be a minute, even a second of silence to honor this father of their industry?

Harry Cohn was a keen observer of life and events, a battler to the top by skill and ingenuity. How many of those who sat in the Oscar show-house, hoping perhaps that the lightning of success might strike them, recalled, apart from Kim Novak, the man who selected them, taught them, helped them, made stars of them? Harry Cohn of Columbia Pictures died this year, died while at work.

Jesse Lasky, one of the pioneers of this industry, who came into it from vaudeville, was a leader in the development of the new art, one of the creators of Paramount, died this year.

Don Hartman, associate of many of those present on this occasion, for years, their friend, teacher and promoter, died this year.

And could they not spare just one minute or perhaps a second to rise to assuage the anguish of their colleague, Elizabeth Taylor, by remembering even by a token lowering of the eye-lids, Mike Todd, who was killed within the week, Mike Todd who brought into this decaying industry new life, new vigor, the hope that stagnation would run before brilliance, as evil disappears before the good.

Hollywood employs producers, directors, technicians, experts, press agents, but what is required is not those whom they can employ to advertise their vices to attract a vulgar era, but those who can give these men and women guidance back to the simple virtues they learned at their mothers' knees, one of which is respect for the living and for the dead. And respect requires an acknowledgment of gratitude for those who smoothed the path of life. For no man or woman is self-made. When John Ford, for instance, took a man off a truck and told him that he was an actor, he created a star. Can the man, in decency, forget that even he was not aware of his talent until someone told him and showed him how?

But there is a little more to this than the waywardness and conceit of show-folks. Involved are the manners of the age, the devil-may-care attitude of those who believe that manners and morals no longer matter, that they were characteristic of another era, that anything goes today which puts a picture in a newspaper or makes a headline, or even for some, a mention in some gossiper's column.

But these are not enough. In fact, they are nothing at all. Our nation was strongest before women boasted over television on the things they can break as Zsa Zsa Gabor did on this occasion when another star, in gentle humility, recalled that Harry Cohn would have been pleased were he alive.

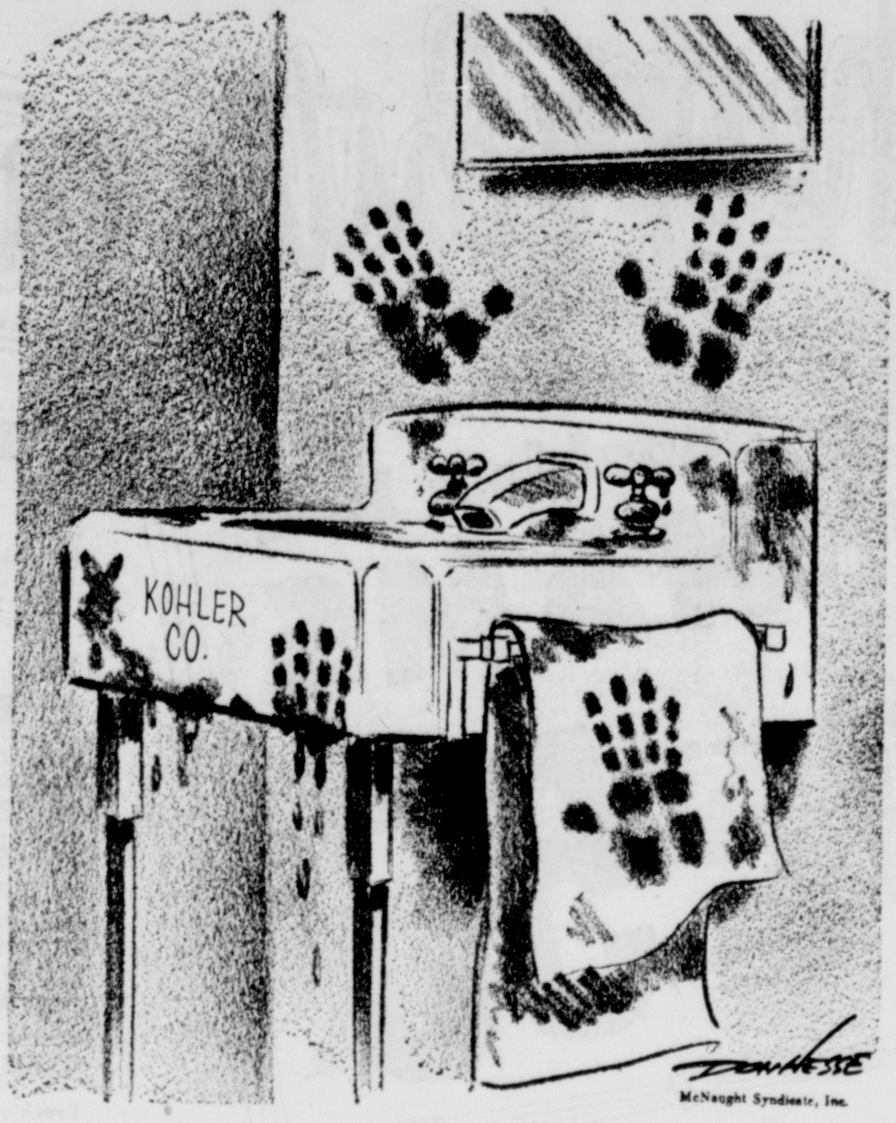
Whose Dirty Hands?



U. S. Let Russia Grab Propaganda Advantage With Ban On Atom Tests

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.— U. S. experts on public opinion admit privately that Moscow scored the No. 1 propaganda victory of the year with the announcement of a unilateral ban of H-bomb tests. It almost equals the No. 1 victory of last year—launching the sputnik.

The Moscow announcement, coming on top of the steady drumbeat of Bulganin notes urging a summit conference and the banning of missile bases in Europe, more than ever has pictured the United States as a warmonger; pictured Russia as the disciple of peace.

The real inside story of how badly the United States muffed the ball on banning H-bomb tests is known only to a few people. As early as September 11, 1956, President Eisenhower and the National Security Council had decided to propose more or less what Moscow proposed this week —a ban on H-bomb tests.

What actually happened at the September 11, 1956 meeting was that Secretary of State Dulles urged a moratorium on the nuclear tests, pointing out that it would win friends for us abroad, would give us the diplomatic initiative, would help convince the world that we are more peace-loving than Moscow.

Harold Stassen immediately agreed with Dulles. Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Lewis Strauss, Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, did not. They warned that Russia might violate any agreement, would test small atomic weapons. They admitted we could detect all large explosions.

In the final voting, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey concurred with Dulles, and the President finally did, too. As is customary in National Security Council meetings, the decision was made unanimous. Though final details were to be worked out later, the tentative plan was to ask Russia to join in suspending H-bomb tests for one year as a "peace experiment." This was to be coupled with a "moral agreement" to outlaw the intercontinental ballistic missile in the same manner poison gas has been outlawed.

Ike Reverses Ike

Approximately one week later, Ike's political advisors warned that Adlai Stevenson had made speeches as early as April, 1956, proposing the end of H-bomb tests, and that he had made another full-dress proposal in early September. The advisers urged that it would be a political mistake to plan into Stevenson's hands by going ahead with the Security Council's decision of September 11.

Eisenhower then reversed himself. On September 19 he came out with a vigorous statement attacking Stevenson's H-bomb proposal as "a theatrical gesture." In speech after speech following this, Eisenhower attacked the Stevenson proposal as political grandstanding. He made it clear he didn't consider Stevenson qualified to discuss atomic energy.

On October 26, the President stormed into the National Security Council meeting and angrily lectured them about leaks. He said he had heard that the September 11 decision regarding H-bomb tests had become known to people outside the council, and as a result he was ordering a full investigation.

On October 29, this column queried the White House as to whether the Security Council had made a decision and then reversed itself. The reply was "no comment." A day or two later, four Democratic Senators made the same inquiry and got a categoric denial.

Health Survey Suspended

Meanwhile, the White House was so embarrassed over Stevenson's proposal to ban nuclear tests that it even played politics with the Public Health Service's survey of radioactivity. Suddenly on September 26, 1956 and without explanation, the survey was canceled.

Ike's blast at Stevenson's prosal had been made on September 19. One week later, Assistant Surgeon General Otis L. Anderson wrote state health officials:

"Field sampling operations in connection with radiation surveillance network will terminate at the close of business Thursday, September 27, 1956."

Twenty-four hours is an extremely abrupt cancellation notice. Many state officials didn't receive the notice before September 27. Anderson was obviously in a hurry. The date of October 1 was scratched out and September 26 typed in. The termination date of September 27 was also typed in.

Previous surveys showed increases of radioactivity as high as 15 to 25 times normal by some monitoring stations. An increase of 10 times normal, according to statements by the Atomic Energy Commission, was considered the alarm point.

Stevenson had proposed the end of H-bomb tests because, he said, the air was becoming dangerously contaminated with radioactive fallout. This was denied by Atomic Energy Chairman Strauss. The surveys made by Public Health Service substantiated Stevenson, contradicted Strauss. The surveys were canceled.

That is the story of how the administration put politics ahead of world peace and the nation's health, thereby permitting Russia to score a great propaganda victory by proposing this week what Stevenson proposed publicly and Eisenhower agreed to privately—and then reversed himself—one year and a half ago.

Summit Parley Should Be Held In 'The Garden'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Some people hereabouts are always urging our own government to take the propaganda "initiative" away from the Soviets. This correspondent has been cogitating about it for some time now and, with all due humility, offers a plan that may at least achieve a high point in dramatic technique.

First, inasmuch as the Kremlin wants a "show" or a spectacular demonstration of some kind, let the "Summit" conference be a show and let it be held in Madison Square Garden, New York City, where it can be witnessed by millions of persons day in and day out.

Second, let an admission fee be charged and the TV rights sold for a big sum. Then let all the proceeds be distributed to the families of the thousands of Hungarian patriots who were killed or maimed in the recent attempt of the Hungarian people to regain their freedom.

Third, if the foregoing—which requires international agreement — cannot be achieved, let there be some "unilateral" decisions made. This means that, without any agreement with the other party, one side takes it upon itself to stop doing certain things that are harmful to people in another country.

Thus, the Soviet government could stop oppressing the people of Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania. This is far more important than to stop "testing" nuclear bombs. For it is asserted by the scientists that the amount of radioactivity from nuclear tests isn't any more harmful than medical X-rays or the luminous rays of a wrist watch. As for the police measures taken by the Kremlin to deprive millions of persons in Eastern Europe of their liberties, this is much more damaging to mankind. Indeed, many people would prefer death to any enslaved life under Communist tyranny.

Another "unilateral" decision Moscow could take would be to open up her radio and television to ambassadors from foreign countries just as America does.

Still another bit of "unilateral" righteousness which the Communists could exhibit would be to let law-abiding citizens of other countries travel where they like inside the Soviet Union.

The Soviets might also make a "unilateral" resolution to admit not just a handful of correspondents to reside in Moscow but as many as wish to do so. This is what a free press really means. What are the Communists afraid of? Why do they maintain censorship on all outgoing news and radio broadcasts made by correspondents resident in Moscow?

There is another "unilateral" adventure on which Moscow might embark. It could return the territory of East Germany to the people of Germany. This is a step which would do much more to hasten the peace of Europe than any phony gestures about stopping the testing of nuclear weapons.

"Unilateral" is a big word nowadays in the propaganda of the Communists. It implies self-denial and a wish to go ahead with good deeds irrespective of whether an adversary does the same. But, strictly speaking, the latest proposal of the Soviets isn't one-sided at all. While agreeing to give up the testing of nuclear bombs for a while, the threat is also made to resume testing later on if the United States doesn't also agree to stop testing. So it's really a maneuver that merely publicizes a fake desire for an international arrangement to stop testing. The United States has all along advocated the same objective but has insisted on a system of safeguards to prevent concealment or cheating.

There is a place where this kind of agreement can be negotiated. It's in the United Nations Disarmament Commission. But the Soviets have not been willing thus far to go again to that body for further talks. It's really a boycott of the United Nations. The Communists seem to prefer the theatrical stuff which, they believe, will deceive the world, including many gullible persons in America.

So maybe the Madison Square Garden idea is the answer after all. Of course, nothing would be agreed to there, but this would also be true of any other type of conference.

For there will be no peace until menacing dictatorships are overthrown and the world has been made "safe for democracy." This was a World War I slogan, but it is even more pertinent today when some of the large empires of the past which nourished freedom are being broken into fragments due to alleged "nationalistic" feeling, only to have these smaller countries gathered one by one under the yoke of Soviet imperialism. Meanwhile, the remainder of the free world, threatened by aggression, staggers under the heavy cost of armament.

It would be relatively inexpensive to carry the true story to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain so that they will know that the appeasers in our midst are not the spokesmen of the West. It is important that the oppressed peoples should never feel they have been forsaken but that, instead, they can rely on the moral support of the whole world whenever they start breaking the chains of their bondage.

Reuther's Problem

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK — (INS) — Old Detroit hand, who knows his way around the newspaper and the union shops, supplies me with a foot-note to a recent series on the auto industry and the chief cause of some portion of its current migraine — Walter Reuther.

"In accounting for what makes Reuther run," he writes, "importance should be given to his short term of office. As I have heard him say quite often, you can't be a labor statesman when you have to stand for re-election every two years. Instead, you have to spend all your time running to stay where you are.

"Reuther said the term should be at least four years or even six. He might have added — but didn't in so many words — that to be returned to office a union officer must have victories even if he has to start a war to get one.

"The same situation applies at the local level. At Kaiser, where I became friendly with officers of the local, they used to explain that their outrageous demands were the most moderate they could offer and still retain office. The alternative was to see the more radical 'outs' elected with an even more outlandish platform.

"Yet these friendly realists 'bargained' the company out of any chance it might have had for survival by demanding and getting concessions which would have busted GM. Perhaps if they'd have four-year terms they could have afforded to be constructive for the first two years. Likewise Reuther. But if he became reasonable just once under the present setup we'd get Mazey."

Emil Mazey, Canadian-born secretary-treasurer of the United Automobile Workers, is considered by many to be much less conservative than Reuther who, in turn, has been called a radical.

Bill O'Dwyer has become what amounts to an American elder statesman on Latin American affairs. A connection that started almost casually, after his tenure as Ambassador to Mexico City, has ripened into the number one work of his later and active life. He could be our best informed man on a portion of the world the U.S. government so often neglects.

"In a few short years we're going to have 200,000,000 people living in Latin America," the former New York Mayor told us the other day. "They'll represent the world's greatest market for the products of U.S. industry. They can buy and use everything we can possibly sell them within the next 20 years, until such time as they can produce sufficient quantities to satisfy their own domestic consumption.

"The market is there, the spirit of cooperation is there, but we can't take it for granted. We must win it. If we don't, other nations will. They're already trying harder than we are. The Sino-Soviet bloc will do a quarter-billion-dollar business in Latin America this year, and that's just the start. It could run into billions shortly, and we have nine billions of trade with those people at stake right now."

Bill suggests: 1) Lower tariffs; 2) Buy their oil or the Reds will; 3) Low interest, long term loans to Latin American governments for road-building, educational and resource development; 4) A fairer partnership arrangement in industries jointly owned; 5) Greater exchange of students, teachers, professional men and technicians ". . . and above all let's learn each other's language so we can talk to each other." He praised U.S. Ambassador-to-Mexico Hill, and urged more tourists to look southward. "U.S. people are better than U.S. dollars," he said. "Our people are born ambassadors."

Marie Aubuchon, the St. Louis editor who prays daily for the conversion of Khrushchev, gives us an interim report:

"I am not too worried about my friend Nikita. You see, I have learned that he was once a shepherd boy. Ever since Bethlehem, I believe God has a love for shepherds. They were the first to hear an angel's invitation to visit Christ. So I think that even an ex-shepherd will find that he can't escape the love of God. The hill of power where Khrushchev stands must be just as cold and lonely as that hill in Bethlehem and an angel's song could be just as welcome, and the smile of the Child just as warm."

Spring Cold? Maybe You Can Blame The Trees

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Spring colds often result from allergy to tree pollen . This must be kept in mind whenever hay fever symptoms develop between mid-March and the end of May. It is at this time that elms, poplar, beech, sycamore, ash, birch, oak and hickory are doing their best to propagate their species.

A physician must be a good botanist to understand allergy. Asthma and hay fever stem from the inhalation of various pollen from trees, grasses, and weeds as well as from fungi.

The plant world has its pollination season. This explains why a person who is allergic to these granules encounters symptoms only during specific times of the year. Sneezing, nasal congestion, and redness of the eyes arise when pollen concentration is high.

If these telltale manisfestations occur in the middle of June, grass allergy is suspected. Plaintain and sorrel are the most common offenders.

Hay fever sufferers complain of burning and tickling sensations in the nose shortly after August 15 when ragweed begins to pollinate.

The distribution and concentration of pollen depend upon climatic factors such as wind, sunshine, rainfall, and humidity. Rain lessens the count; sunshine increases it.

When the wind is right, the individual is affected by pollen from neighboring vegetation as well as from that blowing in from distant areas. Ordinary pollen is invisible to the eye even though the air is filled with it during the height of the season. A single ragweed plant, for example, has been known to produce 8 billion granules of pollen in five hours.

POSITIVE BLOOD

D. T. writes: Ten years ago I finished two years of treatment for syphillis. For the last decade I have had blood tests every six months and one in four shows up positive. Would a blood test every year be sufficient now?

REPLY

Your physician is in a better position to advise you than I am. While your blood reaction may never become completely negative, he must have a good reason for advising you to have the tests made every six months. Syphillis is a complex disease, with many ramifications. Even if you no longer are contagious and the infection is quiescent, it is wise to check the blood periodically.

INSOMNIA

Mrs. K. writes: I always slept well but recently have been waking up after an hour. Then I find it difficult to get back to sleep. Have you any suggestions?

REPLY

This pattern of sleeplessness is not uncommon. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on insomnia, which may offer you some helpful suggestions.

MAKE SOME CHANGE

D. F. T. writes: I have taken 300 pills for arthritis without relief. Should I go on or change doctors?

REPLY

Change pills. There are several good remedies for arthritis and if your physician is not familiar with them, a consultation with a specialist is in order.

BIRTHMARK CHANGES

E. L. writes: If a birthmark becomes itchy suddenly in middle-age, does this mean it has turned cancerous?

REPLY

No, but if scratching the area causes excessive irritation, malignancy is encouraged. Changes in size and color are more common signs of cancer.

TOLERANCE TO ALCOHOL

F. R. writes: Does loss of tolerance for alcohol come with age?

REPLY

Yes, but in many instances increased tolerance is due to the more frequent and longer use of alcohol.

HEADACHE FROM ALCOHOL

Mrs. M. M. writes: What causes a terrific headache to develop after drinking a small amount of any alcoholic beverage?

REPLY

This is not a hangover but a reaction to alcohol. Headache may occur because of allergy, dilatation of cerebral blood vessels, and congestion along the nasal passageways or in the sinuses.

TOMORROW: Weakness of voluntary muscles.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

A sweet young thing toyed with the notion of signing up for a shorthand course. "When we get finished with you," promised the enrollment clerk, "you'll be accurate, dependable, and neat." "What about speed?" persisted the applicant. "Our last nine graduates," said the enrollment clerk calmly, "married their bosses inside of five months."

"How come a beautiful young girl like you was fired by that old wolf at the Third National?" the applicant for a job was asked. She explained demurely, "It was because of a mistake I wouldn't make."

Love in the second grade: Wrote Judy to the lad in front of her, "I love you. Do you love me?" The lad replied, "I do." "That's exactly what I didn't want to say," he explained to his dad that evening, "but I can't spell 'don't.'"

New York May Regret Trading Ralph Terry

Young Fireballer Expects Big Year

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., April 2 — (INS) — The New York Yankees, who rarely part with a good player, may live to regret the trading of youthful right hander Ralph Terry.

When the 22-year-old fireballer pitched a five-hit shutout for Kansas City against Philadelphia last week, he gave every indication that he was ready for a banner season.

Last year, Terry had a 5 and 12 record, 4 and 11 with the Athletics. One of his wins was over his former teammates and he lost a one-hitter to them in the ninth inning.

"I guess I try a little harder against the Yanks," Terry said.

"Everybody bears down just a little harder against New York. But it's a real challenge to me when I'm out there on the mound against them."

Counts On Terry

Manager Harry Craft of the Athletics has been very pleased during the five weeks Terry has been at the West Palm Beach training camp. It is no secret that Craft is counting on Terry to be his "number one starter," Craft said:

"Ralph was awful good last year even though he lost 11 games for us. But four of those games were by one run. His earned run average with the A's was 3.38 just a little over Jack Urban. With any kind of luck, he should win 15 games for us."

Pitching coach Spud Chandler, a Yankee great in the 1930s, is sold on the Chelsea, Okla., hurler. Chandler believes Terry will "win 20 games" this season. He says, "if not this season, then next year or in 1960."

Chandler said he would not like to see Terry traded "unless we could get Herb Score" of Cleveland.

Suffered Hip Fracture

Terry suffered a hip fracture last Nov. 10 in an automobile accident but has not shown any ill effects.

Craft believes Terry, Urban southpaw Alex Kellner and Duke Maas who was acquired from Detroit, "Should give the team a big lift in the standings." Last year Kansas City finished eighth and never has wound up higher than sixth (1955).

Maryland Lacrosse Team Victorious

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Maryland's powerful lacrosse team opened its 1958 season Wednesday by smothering Princeton 15-1 with Dick Corrigan's 4 goals leading the way.

The Togers made a game of it in the "tight" first quarter when Maryland scored only twice. In that period, when Maryland took only six shots at the Tigers' goal, Princeton was on the attack persistently.

Phillies Edge Dodgers, 4-3

Jones' Hit In 14th Wins Overtime Tilt

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Willie Jones' single with the bases loaded in the 14th inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday.

Joe Lonnett opened the inning with a single off Jackie Collum, and went to third when Collum's attempted pickoff was wild. After pitcher Dick Farrell had grounded out, Richie Ashburn and Dave Philley were intentionally passed, and Jones' single did the rest.

The teams went into extra innings in a 2-2 tie. In the top of the 12th Joe Pignatano, running for Rube Walker, who had singled, scored on a squeeze as Don Zimmer put down a fine bunt.

The Phillies evened it up in their half on Chuck Essegian's pinch single, a sacrifice, and Granny Hamner's double.

Red Wings Retain Abel As Coach

DETROIT, April 2 (INS)—The Detroit Red Wings today signed Coach Sid Abel to a new contract for the 1958-59 National Hockey League season.

The Wings were eliminated from the 1957-58 Stanley Cup playoffs last night when they lost a 4 to 3 decision to the Montreal Canadiens, who took the semi-final series in four straight games.

Abel, a star for the Wings in his playing days, took over as coach in January when Jim Skinner stepped aside because of illness.

Drott, Phillips Hurl Seven-Hitter

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Dick Drott and Taylor Phillips limited Cleveland to seven hits as the Chicago Cubs whipped the Indians, 8-2, Wednesday.

It was windup for Cleveland at its training headquarters. Bob Speake homered for the Cubs and Lee Walls cracked a bases-loaded double as the National Leaguers tallied four runs in the ninth inning.

The Indians scored all their runs in the sixth frame on singles by Chico Carrasquel and Roger Maris and a double by Preston Ward. Drott hurled the first six innings and Phillips was on the mound for the final three.

The Cubs scored three runs in the first two innings off Mike Garcia, but were blanked over the next three frames by Don Mossi.

Speake hit his homer off Chuck Churn and the Cubs' four runs in the ninth came at the expense of Hal Woodeschick.

International Field TO Vie In Masters Golf Tourney

Ford Opens Defense Of Title Today

Seeks 2nd Crown, Ken Venturi Is Considered Favorite

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Doug Ford, a not-quite-forgotten man of pro golf, starts his defense of the coveted Masters title Thursday against an international field which includes some top players of five continents.

Ford won't be entirely forgotten as long as there are fans around to recall his whirlwind finish last year when he holed out from a trap at the 72nd for a winning final round of 66.

But so far this year only Doug, himself, and possibly a very few others have paid much attention to the possibility of his becoming the first player ever to win the Masters two years in succession. Ford picks himself to win just as he did a year ago.

Venturi Is Favorite

Ken Venturi, the brash young man from San Francisco, is the favorite—and properly. Ken nearly walked off with the tournament two years ago, when he still was an amateur, then blew it on the final round.

Ever since, winning the Masters has been Venturi's biggest objective and his remarkably consistent play on the winter tour indicates this may be his year to do it. He has won three open tournaments and finished second twice.

The 1958 Masters field, smallest in recent years, numbers about 90 players who fill the rigid and reduced qualifying standards.

As always, the field includes virtually all past winners of the Masters, most of the National Open and Amateur champions of the past 10 years or so and the leading players on the pro circuit.

The foreign list, larger and stronger than usual, is headed by a pair of Japanese stars, Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono, whose amazing putting and consistently low scores have made them the No. 1 attraction during practice rounds.

Play Begins At 9:30

First round play starts Thursday at 9:30 a.m. (EST). After the second round Friday, the field will be cut to the 40 low scorers and ties for 40th. If there are no ties for 40th, players with the next highest score will continue to play.

Last year, when the cutoff was instituted, such stars as two-time winner Ben Hogan, amateur ace Billy Joe Patton and Cary Middlecof, then National Open champion failed to survive. It could happen again.

The massive Augusta National course, which can be stretched out to 6,980 yards and averages about 6,850 yards during the tournament, is one obstacle the eventual winner will have to overcome—along with the blue ribbon opposition. Its par is 36-36—72.

The wet, chilly spring weather has dimmed Augusta National's beauty—the blossoms aren't out—and have made it play long and hard. But a bright sun and a brisk wind was drying out the course during final practice rounds Wednesday.

"You get a little more roll every day and the greens are nearly perfect," said Gene Littler after his final tour.

But in all probability the huge contoured greens won't be quite as fast as usual unless there's more heat and wind to dry them.

Clubs Battle To 3-3 Draw

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Charleston Senators and Birmingham played to a 3-3 exhibition game tie Wednesday in a contest called after eight innings by agreement.

Outfielder Ben Mateosky was the Charleston standout, slapping out three hits and slamming another drive that Birmingham second baseman Steve Broros caught. Mateosky is hitting .395 for the spring.

Bucs Drop Game On Wild Pitches

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—A pair of wild pitches by Pittsburgh rookie left-hander Joe Gibbon opened the door for a Boston Red Sox 2-0 victory Wednesday over the Pirates in a tight pitching duel in which each club managed just three hits.

Boston had been set down with just one hit—a first inning single by Don Buddin—by Ron Kline and Bob Smith before Gibbon took over to become the loser.

Ken Aspromonte opened the 8th with a double and moved only to third on a pop single to right by Pete Daley. Aspromonte was out at the plate on winner Leo Kiely's grounder, but when Gibbon pitched into the dirt, the two runners moved to second and third. Another wild pitch to the backstop allowed Daley to score. Kiely then crossed on Pete Runnels deep sacrifice fly.

Bill Skowron Extends Homer Pace In 7-5 Win

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Bill Skowron continued his slugging spree Wednesday belting two more homers to power the New York Yankees to a 7-5 victory over the Washington Senators.

One was the first baseman's third grand slam of the spring and second in two days.

Skowron's base-clearing drive over the left field fence came in the second inning off righthander Camilo Pascual and helped earn the American League champions a 6-0 lead.

Washington made four runs in the fifth. Three crossed on Neil Chrisley's double with the bases full.

Skowron's second smack came in the ninth, when reliever Bud Byerly was on the mound.

Redleg Homers Beat Tigers, 3-2

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Home runs by Gus Bell and Smoky Burgess Wednesday gave Cincinnati a 3-2 victory over Detroit in an exhibition baseball game.

Bell hit his homer in the first inning and Burgess connected for the distance in the second with a runner on base. After that Jim Bunning allowed only three Redleg batters to reach base.

The Tigers outbatted Cincinnati eight hits to five, but could not put them together. Billy Martin stole home in the first inning, and Pete Whisenant misjudged Bunning's sixth inning double to account for the other score.

Dallas Green, Hard-Hitting Pitcher, Looks Good To Phils

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Dallas Green (naturally nicknamed "Tex") has a bright future in baseball as a pitcher but he might have had one as a hitter, too.

The raw rookie flinger in the Phillies' camp here, held over from the rookie school for the second year in a row, was quite a hitter in high school and college ball and often played first base and the outfield when he wasn't pitching—and he hit for .400 each year.

The Phils signed him as a pitcher in June, 1955, after he had completed his junior year at the University of Delaware, for a bonus of $4,000. Thirteen other clubs were after him but Green, a native of nearby Wilmington, Del., liked the Philly organization best.

Dallas Green

THE VETERAN RECEIVER, Andy Seminick, now a coach here, has high praise for Green and Andy should know because he has handled many young pitchers.

Green was sent to Reidsville, N. C., where he was 2-2. He finished the season with Mattoon, Ill., and here he had 3-2. In 1956 he moved up to a Class C loop, the Pioneer league, and he turned in 17 victories for Salt Lake City, winning "rookie of the year" honors there.

Last season he started with Miami and then was sent to High-Point-Thomasville in the Carolina loop, a Class B league, and he turned in a 12-9 record.

Son of a garage man in Wilmington, Green is 23, throws righthanded and is one of the tallest men in camp here at 6 feet 5 inches.

He was brought to the Philly camp at Clearwater last spring for a look but received a draft call and had to report for service. In his final exam, however, he was found to have had a hernia and he was put in 4-F.

Green was married in January to his high school sweetheart. His only interests away from baseball are basketball, studying for a business administration degree and listening to popular music.

C. and the Ridgeley Legion. The two senior unlimited teams will clash in tonight's finale for the division crown at 9:45 on the "Y" court.

In a junior unlimited semi-final encounter last night the Lover's Leap Esso tive easily turned back Mason's Snack Bar, 75-49, to enter tonight's finals against the Rendezvous Five at 8:30 p. m.

The Moose, pushed by the Hancock visitors, registered their second victory in the senior class, breaking a 22-22 deadlock in the first quarter and gaining a 44-39 edge at halftime which they maintained throughout the rest of the game.

Showers Gets 20 Points

Fritz Showers paced the Moose tossers with 20 points, followed by George McGregor's 18 tallies, as the Cumberland cagers won the game at the foul line. Outgoaled 30-27 by Hancock, the Moose five converted 28-39 free tosses to gain the victory.

High man for the losers was Henry Parks who caged 26 points for Hancock.

The Devon Club, playing without Don Moran, Jim Cave, Jimmy Clevenger and Clay Smith's services, used only five men in turning back the challenge of the Ridgeley Legion, 72-59.

The victors, however, had a much more easy time than the Moose, piling up a 17-9 first quarter lead and holding the edge the remainder of the game.

Win At Foul Line

The Devon Club won at the foul line also, outscored from the field, 25-24, the victors converted 24 of 26 free tosses to Ridgeley's 9-15.

High man for the winners was Ed Orndorff with 24 points, including 10-10 at the free throw line. Best for Ridgeley was Lambert's 16.

Mason's Snack Bar dropped behind in the first quarter and trailed throughout the game, losing to Lover's Leap. Junior O'Neal banged in 25 points to pace the winners while high scorer for Mason's was Jim Paige with 16.

Last night's victors join Lover's Leap Esso and St. Peter's of Westernport in the 115-pound final; and the Bobcats and Jimmy's Place in the 135-pound finale.

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. Wednesday suspended former lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith of Cincinnati until he submits to and passes a physical examination by an NBA-appointed physician.

The decision to drydock Smith was announced by Gillie Jackson, NBA president.

Feathers Pick Up Handsome Fight Checks

Bassey Retained Title In Knockout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hogan (Kid) Bassey, the winner and still featherweight champion of the world, and Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno, the loser, had a warm welcome for each other Wednesday along with a handsome payday.

Bassey, the Nigerian who knocked Mexico's "Little Bird" out in three rounds Tuesday night, picked up a check for $70,000 for his night's quick work.

Moreno's injured pride was soothed somewhat with his guarantee of $38,000.

The two met at the Olympic Auditorium, along with their handlers, for the payoff.

Bassey sported a slight swelling under his right eye, the result of a Moreno blow in the first round, and Moreno's left eye was bruised black.

They embraced and shook hands willingly for cameramen, each forgetting that before 19,686 fans they were trying to knock the other's head off.

There were moments, however, especially when someone extended sympathies, that the 21-year-old Mexican lad couldn't hold back the tears.

Matchmaker George Parnassus announced the official gross gate for the non-televised scheduled 15-rounder was $215,047.06 and the net $184,507.05.

Parnassus hopes to bring Bassey back for a title fight with Davey Moore, a ranking American featherweight from Springfield, Ohio.

Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, is willing.

Rory Calhoun Wins TKO Over Pompey

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rory Calhoun, a double-barrelled puncher from White Plains, New York, scored a technical knockout over Yolande Pompey in the sixth round of their scheduled 10-round fight Wednesday night.

Pompey, cut over the left eye, was no match for his opponent, the nation's sixth ranking middleweight in Ring Magazine's ratings.

Calhoun, after pummelling his Trinidad opponent vigorously in the first two rounds, opened a cut and Pompey, Ring's third ranking light heavyweight, was unable to answer the bell for the sixth.

Rodgers' Homer Wins Game, 9-8

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Rookie San Francisco shortstop Andre Rodgers hit an inside-the-park two-run homer in the ninth for a 9-8 Giant victory over the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday.

Rodgers' drive down the right-field line dropped and rolled away from outfielder Al Pilarcik. The shortstop from the Bahamas went all the way around as Willie Kirkland scored in front of him.

The Giants went into the final frame trailing in two runs. Baltimore had unleashed a 12-hit attack that included homers by Bob Nieman, Dick Williams and Billy Gardner.

The Giants collected a total of 14 hits off three Baltimore pitchers—Johnny Fisher, Charlie Beamon and George Zuverink. The Orioles got a two-run lead in the first off ace lefthander Johnny Antonelli and built a 4-0 lead by the top of the fifth, before the Giants began chipping away.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—West Virginia tangles with Wisconsin in the Friday opener of the six-day Florida State Invitational Baseball Tournament.

The Mountaineers will play host Florida State Saturday, Notre Dame next Monday, Wisconsin Tuesday, Florida State again next Wednesday and Notre Dame again next Thursday to round out their tourney schedule.

Coach Stine Harrichs' baseballers are expected to arrive here with one game under their belts. They are slated to play Georgia Teachers College at Statesboro, Ga. in the season lid-lifter Thursday.

Harrick plans to use his veterans at all but two positions in the starting lineup.

Bucky Bolyard, who won four of six games as a sophomore last spring, has tagged for the opening pitching assignament.

Back at his old cleanup spot will be Eddie Lenart, rejoining the team after being sidelined last year with a broken leg. Senay hit .337 as a sophomore and was the all-Conference first-sacker.

Don Smith, a letterman two seasons ago, will play left field and bat fifth. Wayne Austin, a .319 hitter as a sophomore last spring, will be in right field and bat sixth.

Following him will be two sophomores, Regis Fair as the catcher, and Frank Paczewski in centerfield.

The Mountaineers are making their southern junket during the Easter vacation.

Fair, a sophomore catcher who has won a starting assignment with the Mountaineers, is a graduate of LaSalle High School of Cumberland where he starred as a hard-hitting backstop for the Explorers for three years. He also played independent ball in the area before going to WVU.

MONTGOMERY, W. Va. (AP) — Arnold M. Vickers, 49 - year - old attorney who served as president of the State Senate in 1945 and 1947, announced formally Wednesday he would enter the Democratic primary for U. S. Senate.

Vickers' announcement confirmed an earlier report that he would get into the contest for the short term seat of the late veteran Democratic senator, M. M. Neely.

Already campaigning for the nomination are former Gov. William C. Marland of Charleston and former Congressman Jennings Randolph of Elkins.

The seat is being held under an interim appointment by Republican Sen. John D. Hoblitzell Jr. of Ravenswood.

Scouts Learn Fire Building

Some 17 members of the four patrols of Boy Scout Troop No. 9 and their leaders held an outing recently in McCoole, built camp fires and cooked two meals.

The troop is sponsored by Cresaptown Methodist Church. Scoutmaster Delbert Leese gave a demonstration on how to start a camp fire with flint and steel.

There was a discussion of scout leaders, their duties, and the responsibilities of the patrol. The scouts concluded their outing by setting out 100 trees furnished by Brook Bodkin of Dawson, supervisor in the Department of Forests and Parks.

Two of the scouts, Dennis Bobo and Jay Miller, who are working for a merit badge, hiked from Brant Road in Cresaptown to the camp site, a distance of 12 miles.

Transportation for the other scouts was furnished by Mrs. James Ritchie and Harvey Wilt of Rawlings, Scoutmaster Leese and Robert Metz of Cresaptown.

St. Paul's Gets Building Permit

A permit for construction of a new $500,000 St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 111 Washington Street was issued yesterday by the city engineer's office.

The two story brick church with concrete foundation will be 131 feet by 51 feet with a 121-foot wing. The lot on which the new church is being built, the old Roman property, fronts 202 feet on Washington Street and 342 feet on Smallwood Street.

Under Order No. 7093 of City Council, passed during the administration of former Mayor Thomas S. Post, churches are exempt from charges for building permits. The George F. Hazelwood Company began work on the new colonial-type church this week. Charles L. Kopp, lay president of the Vestry, obtained the permit.

Another permit was issued yesterday to Mrs. Dessie M. Estes for construction of a one-story block and brick veneer dwelling at 122 East Elder Street. John L. Estes, 1317 Virginia Avenue, will build the house at an estimated cost of $7,000, according to the permit.

Board Of Public Works Asked To Transfer Funds

CHARLESTON (AP) — The Board of Public Works has been asked to approve a fund transfer which would make $100,000 available to help extreme hardship cases among persons ineligible for regular public assistance grants.

The request from the Department of Public Assistance is one of numerous items on the agenda for a meeting of the board Thursday afternoon.

Requests also will be before the board for approval of salary increases for the last three months of the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, at three state institutions. The institutions, are the State Penitentiary, Barboursville State Hospital and the West Virginia Training School.

The board will consider State Armory Board requests for release of appropriations which, together with funds previously released, would provide the state's share of cost of construction of new National Guard armories at Richwood and Williamson. Federal funds have been made available for three - fourths of the cost of the projects.

The $100,000 for an emergency DPA program for the balance of this fiscal year would come from transfer of $50,000 each from appropriations for old age assistance and aid to the permanently and totally disabled. DPA Director Thomas R. Egbert explained that the case loads under those two programs are running below the estimates on which the budget was based and the transfer would not cause any shortage.

Only unemployable persons are eligible for aid under the regular public assistance program, financed partly by federal funds. But Egbert said the current economic recession has resulted in some extreme hardship cases among persons who are classed as employable and therefore are ineligible under the regular program.

Such cases include unemployed workers who have exhausted their 24 weeks of unemployment compensation or who were laid off from jobs not covered by unemployment insurance.

The $100,000 would be used partly to help such persons. Some of it would be used also for immediate grants to employable persons to tide them over the one - month waiting period before receipt of their first check under the regular assistance program.

Egbert emphasized that $100,000 would not go far when distributed among the 55 counties.

The penitentiary asked the Board of Public Works to let it increase 86 guards from $250 to $260 a month for the last three months of the fiscal year and permit an increase from $230 to $250 a month for the same period for 40 guards.

The increases at Barboursville and the West Virginia Training School at St. Marys for the last three months would be a straight 10 per cent for all employes. Increased 1958-59 salary appropria-

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to the people of Ridgeley and other friends for their kindness and expressions of sympathy extended to us during the illness and passing of our beloved mother, Mrs. Bertha V. Zimmers. We especially thank those who donated the use of their cars, the minister and music staff of Calvary Methodist Church and all who sent sympathy cards and floral tributes, as well as the pallbearers. We also are grateful to the George Funeral Home for their courteous and understanding services. The kindness and consideration of our friends has been a tower of strength in our hour of sorrow.

THE FAMILY

We wish to thank all the neighbors, friends and relatives for flowers, kindness and help during our recent bereavement, the death of my husband and our father, John Long. Our thanks to Rev. Lepley and Scarpelli's Funeral Home.

Sincerely appreciated

EUNICE LONG and CHILDREN

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the members of the family, friends and neighbors and members of the Red Men Tonkaway Tribe 120 for their kind expressions of sympathy. We especially wish to thank Rev. B. F. Hartman, Hafer's Funeral Home, the pallbearers, those who sent flowers, and those who donated cars for the funeral of the late Thomas McCoy.

Mrs. Thomas McCoy & Son

In Memoriam

HAWKINS — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Richard J., who passed away suddenly April 3, 1957.

We walked together, you and I,
In sorrow and in joy.
We shared our pains and happiness
With love without alloy.
And death shall never end our love
For thru the mist I see.
Our glad reunion in the sky—
For all eternity!

Loving wife, Grace

TO DAD

Somewhere above this troubled world,
Safe beyond all grief and care,
Our father rests in heavenly peace—
God grant some day we'll meet him there.

Loving sons, Dale and Richard Jr.

Former Ring Champ Gets 10 Days In Jail

BALTIMORE (AP)—John Gutenko blamed memories of his former glory as Kid Williams, the bantamweight boxing champ of the world, for his excessive drinking Wednesday.

Gutenko, now 65 years old, was before Magistrate John Janetzke on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct.

"I know you from old and gave you several breaks," the magistrate told the former pugilist. "But you can't go on like this, thinking of the past.

"I'm going to give you 10 days in jail to straighten you out."

Gutenko won the bantamweight title at Vernon, Calif., on June 10, 1914 by knocking out Johnny Coulon in the third round. The fight was scheduled for 20. Gutenko, or Kid Williams, lost the crown three years later to Pete Herman.

Indian Navy Vessel

CLYDEBANK, Scotland (AP) — A new frigate has been commissioned here for the Indian navy. Called the Brahmaputra, the vessel is designed primarily for convoy protection against aircraft. It also can serve as a small type of destroyer.

The vessel is the first big warship built for the Indian navy in Britain since India won independence in 1947.

Comrade Or Mister?

VIENNA (AP) — The Hungarian Communist newspaper Nepsava says it sometimes proves embarrassing when one meets a stranger and doesn't know whether he should properly be called comrade. The article said when in doubt about the stranger's political leaning, it may be simpler to just use "my lady," or "miss" or "mister."

Unruly Students

MADRAS (AP) — Annamalai University, near the temple town of Chidambaram, has been closed because of what officials call student lack of discipline. The registrar said between 300 and 500 of the 4,000 students broke windows and doors recently when they were locked out because they stayed out too late.

Lack Of Demand

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Government officials predict Mexican workers going to the United States will drop 40 per cent during the next three months. They said the sharp decrease results from one factor: no demand.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, (1950 Edition), notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland did, in regular session Monday, March 24, 1958, approve the Report of Commissioners for the closing of that portion of Homestead Avenue from its intersection with the southerly side of Fourth Street to its intersection with the southerly side of Second Street, as shown on the plat of South View Addition dated August 15, 1948, said portion of said street being that part which abuts on Lots 81 to 93, both inclusive, and Lots 103 to 115, inclusive. Said Commissioners were appointed by virtue of Ordinance No. 2080 for the purpose of assessing any damages or benefits incurred by or accruing to any owners of property affected by the closing of said portion of said street.

After meeting on the premises (10:00 o'clock A. M. March 18, 1958) and hearing those persons who would be affected by the closing of said portion of said street, the Commissioners present the following:

"After careful examination of the street to be closed, your Commissioners feel that none of the adjacent property owners are affected thereby, and that no damages will be caused by the aforesaid closing to the owners or possessors of any property located along said street, nor will any material benefits be derived therefrom by the abutting property owners.

Since the closing of said portion of Homestead Avenue hereinbefore recited has been accomplished at the request of The Potomac Edison Company, the undersigned are of the opinion that the cost incident to the closing should be charged by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland to said Potomac Edison Company, and we assess the cost of the same to the petitioner, it being our determination that the payment of said cost offsets any special benefits which said company may derive from said closing."

Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty days after March 24, 1958, by filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

Market Takes Its Worst Tumble Since January 10

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market took its worst tumble since Jan. 10 as vigorous selling shook prices late Wednesday.

Leading issues were down fractions to 2 points and more.

An estimated $1,800,000,000 was erased from quoted values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the Associated Press average.

Continued poor reports by heavy industries such as steel and automobile manufacturing combined with a flow of pessimistic forecasts on first quarter earnings to bring the heavy selling, brokers said.

The government report that the steady rise of consumer installment debt had ground to a halt was a bearish factor in the background. Auto assemblies in March reportedly fell to their lowest level for the month since 1948. A Labor Dept. official predicted a rise in the unemployment figures for March.

The break, second sharpest this year, followed six days of moderate, general declines.

The AP 60-stock average dropped $1.40 to $160.10 with the industrials down $2.70, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 4.26 to 441.21.

Of 1,136 issues traded, declines totaled 672 and advances 216. New lows for 1958 totaled 44 and new highs 36.

Volume rose to 2,390,000 shares from 2,070,000 Tuesday. Only 3 of the 15 most active stocks rose, 10 declined and 2 were unchanged.

Lorillard, continuing a renewed rise in expectations of good earnings, was the most active stocks, up 1¼ at 53⅞ on 92,800 shares. Second was Royal Dutch, off ½ at 40¼ on 40,400 shares. Third was Raytheon, up ⅛ at 24¾ on 35,300 shares.

Spectacular Fire Ruins Lumber Shed

Buchanan Company Blaze Brings 5 Fire Companies

An all-alarm fire, raging out of control at midnight, appeared likely to destroy a storage shed and garage of the Buchanan Lumber Company off the 600 block of North Centre Street.

The fire, reported at 11:02 p.m., brought fire engines from Central, East Side, West Side, South End and Ridgeley, W.Va. City firemen called out off-duty crews to help fight the blaze.

No firemen or lumber yard workers had been injured in the fire by early morning.

Firemen concentrated their efforts on protecting nearby buildings after flames leaped through the composition roof of the shed, located parallel to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks next to the Cumberland Brewing Company's bottling house.

The bottling house, a masonry building, appeared in no serious danger but several other buildings, including those of the lumber firm, were endangered by flying sparks.

Firemen kept hoses trained on the buildings from hydrants on North Centre and North Mechanic streets.

Three trucks owned by Buchanan Company were stored in the garage part of the shed, and the gas tank of one of them exploded before midnight, showering sparks over the area.

Buchanan workers said there were no other highly flammable items in the building. The shed, a two-story-loft-type building about 125 feet long and 40 feet wide, was built of wood covered with sheet metal.

Flames lighted the skies as the fire opened a hole in the roof, and the Times-News office was deluged with calls from residents of every section of the city who feared the fire was in their neighborhoods.

Traffic jammed badly on North Centre Street as crowds of curious drove to the area. Five fire engines were at the scene, and the Cumberland Brewing Company was moving its trucks away from the bottling house to protect them from the flames and to clear more working space for the firemen.

No one had a guess about the cause of the fire by midnight, and it was not known whether the building was insured.

Attorney Gives His Opinion On Pension Plan

No Move Taken To Rescind Move

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, yesterday put into writing, in a three-page letter, a verbal opinion he had given the commissioners Tuesday that they lacked authority to levy upon assessable property to pay a supplementary pension to teachers who retire after July 1.

Back on February 4, Commissioners William A. Wilson and Charles N. Wilkinson voted to give all teachers with at least 10 years teaching experience in this county who retire after July 1, a supplemental pension of $600 a year to compensate for the annuity deficiency in the State Teachers' Retirement System. Commissioner James Orr opposed the resolution.

Mr. Getty pointed out in his statement that county commissioners in Maryland have limited authority and may perform acts expressly or impliedly permitted by their charter. They are given only special and limited jurisdiction, he said.

The attorney stated that Section 525 of Article 1 of the Code of Public Local Laws for Allegany County gives the county commissioners authority to pay $25 a month to retired school teachers. However, these payments are limited to enough to give each teacher a total pension not exceeding $150 a month. All teachers retiring at present get more than that.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Wilkinson took no action yesterday to rescind their February 4 resolution. It is understood that Thomas B. Finan, as attorney for the County Teachers' Association, will discuss the pension matter with the county commissioners next Tuesday. It may be that an opinion will be requested from Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert.

March Building Permit Activity Totals $303,475

Building activity in Allegany County took a decided upswing in March when 41 building permits for construction estimated to cost a total of $303,475 were issued by the county assessing department.

That was the heaviest March building permit activity in the four years that a tabulation has been made on permits for construction in the unincorporated areas of the county.

In March 1957 there were 34 permits issued for construction estimated to cost a total of $207,600.

The three-month total this year includes 62 permits for construction estimated to cost a total of $405,700. Last year the three-month totals were 68 permits for construction costing $2,365,475. However, the bulk of that total was the January permit issued for a proposed Winchester Road shopping center costing $2,000,000, which has not been built. Deducting that permit, 1958 has a better record than 1957.

Of the 41 March permits, 16 were for construction in Election District 29 at LaVale. Other election districts with more than one March permit include District 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings, six permits; District 5, North End suburban, and District 6, West Side suburban, three each; District 3, Flintstone; District 20, Corriganville; District 23, East Side suburban, two each.

There were single permits for construction in Election Districts 2, Oldtown; 11, Frostburg suburban; 16, North Branch; 22, East Side suburban; 24; Eckhart; 31, McCoole, and 33, Kifer.

Bigegst individual builder during the month was Ralph G. Cover, who obtained permits for nine new homes in Coverwood, Election District 29, costing a total of $147,500, nearly half of the monthly total.

The March permits authorized construction of 27 new dwellings, three new garages, two new dwellings and garages, one shed, one dwelling addition, one equipment company addition, one porch addition, one garage and apartment, one addition to warehouse, one barn, one storage building and one cabin.

$20,000 Damage Suit Settled For $750

A $20,000 suit filed against the Mayor and Council of Mt. Lake Park by a man who said the town dumped sewage into his private lake was settled for $750 yesterday in Washington County Circuit Court at Hagerstown.

Ray Kight of Mt. Lake Park brought the suit late last year in Garrett County Circuit Court, and later asked that it be removed to Allegany County. This was done in November, but in January, the town asked that the case be heard in Washington County.

Mr. Kight claimed that while the town was fixing up its sewerage system last July it failed to make arrangements for overflow sewage, and allowed it to run into his seven-acre lake, "contaminating and corrupting" the water.

The Garrett County Health Department then ordered the lake closed to swimming and fishing because of its condition. Mr. Kight said this cost him money, because he operated the lake commercially for swimmers and anglers.

The settlement was filed in court yesterday after the trial had begun before Associate Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin of Hagerstown.

Attorneys for Mr. Kight were Edward J. Ryan of Cumberland and Charles Wagaman of Hagerstown. The town was represented by W. Dwight Stover of Garrett County and Roland Ready of Hagerstown.

One hundred 59 luck bucks were received for Easter Seals by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children since Tuesday's total was reported at $6,276.

The additional lucky bucks bring the 1958 campaign total to $6,435. Over 23,000 residents of Allegany County received Easter Seals in the mail.

More than the current total is needed to finance the treatment of the crippled and the handicapped in this section and it is hoped that at least $12,000 will be received in the Easter Seals.

Don't hold back the money if you have not mailed in your return. The lucky buck you mail may be a lucky buck for some child in need of treatment.

Man Held In Bank Holdup Attempt

Joseph V. Shrout Nabbed By Posse In Hampshire Co.

A Paw Paw man wanted for the attempted robbery of the Western Frederick Bank of Gore, Va., yesterday morning was arrested by a posse several hours later just across the West Virginia line.

He was identified as Joseph Vance Shrout, 33, whose last known address was 241 South Broadway, Baltimore. Authorities said he was a native of Petersburg, W. Va., and formerly lived in Paw Paw for several years.

Shrout was picked up by a posse of West Virginia State Police, Frederick County (Va.) sheriff's deputies, Winchester, Va., city police and members of the FBI when his car was spotted from a police airplane.

The auto was spotted in a wooded area about 10 miles west of Gore, at Capon Bridge near the bridge which spans the Cacapon River there.

When found in the woods, Shrout offered no resistance and police found no weapon on him or in the car. Laboratory technicians began the task of going over the car for other data.

Shrout was taken to Winchester Memorial Hospital by the agent in charge of the Richmond, Va., FBI office, John A. Roche, who said the man was treated at the hospital for a bullet wound in his left forearm.

Station Operator Hurt

He was apparently hit in an exchange of shots with a gas station operator, Leroy Baker, who used a .38 calibre revolver. Baker also was taken to the Winchester hospital with a bullet wound in his right shoulder, but was released later.

Shrout was arraigned tonight before U. S. Commissioner Charles A. Nelson at Harrisburg. He pleaded innocent to a charge of attempted armed robbery of the Gore bank. Nelson set bond at $25,000 and Shrout was taken to the Rockingham County Jail.

Authorities said Shrout would probably be taken to jail in Roanoke later to await prosecution.

After his arrest, Shrout was returned to Gore, where Roche said witnesses identified him as the man who had fired one pistol shot at a bank official and wounded a storekeeper in the holdup attempt early yesterday.

Meanwhile an extensive search was started in the area surrounding the car, to look for the weapon believed to have been used in the attempted holdup. The weapon is believed to be a 7.9 mm. automatic pistol. Searchers were using a magnetic mine detector device in the river waters.

The FBI agent said Shrout denied he was hiding in the woods but "just walking in the woods." Roche praised the law enforcement officers for their aid and cooperation with the FBI in locating Shrout.

Shoots At Banker

A cagey bank official and a storekeeper had teamed up to thwart the apparent attempted robbery just after the bank opened at 9 a.m. The would-be robber shot at the banker and missed. A second shot wounded the storekeeper.

Cashier J. W. Ward said employes of the bank had noticed a man sitting in a 1958 red and white Ford outside the bank at 8:20 a.m. Shortly after the bank opened at 9 a.m. the man entered and asked a teller, Mrs. James Webster of Capon Bridge, for the manager.

A second woman employe, Mrs. Peggy Sue LaFollette, had been sent next door to tell Baker about the suspicious man. Ward said the man said he wanted to talk about a loan.

"We are not processing any loans this early in the morning," Ward said as he started to walk out of the bank to the street. He said the man then raised a briefcase, and, when Ward tried to duck around the corner of the bank, fired a shot.

Baker, warned of the man's presence, fired twice at the gunman from the porch of his store. After the first shot the gunman turned and fired at Baker. The bullet struck Baker in the shoulder. The man then fled in the car.

State Police and local and county authorities throughout Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia set up roadblocks.

Two airplanes, one from Moorefield and one from Winchester, combed the area to spot the getaway car on secondary roads.
